Village plans 3 hearings, 1 concerns apartment ban

by GLORIA DAVIS

With three village public hearings in the near future, the one concerning the proposed change in the Village of Antioch's zoning ordinance to ban the building of apartments on the top of commercial buildings in the future, is the most controversial.

Although this would not immediately affect apartments on already existing commercial buildings, such buildings would become non-conforming. This means that they could not be rebuilt in case of a fire and owners would be unable to get building permits for any substantial amount of remodeling.

This public hearing is slated for 7:30 p.m., on Wednesday, April 27.

This hearing will be followed at 8 p.m. by one on Lyons and Ryans' request for a zoning variance in order to build a car wash.

An earlier public hearing on the construction of a Burger King on the site of the Liddle Farm and vegetable stand, just west of the intersection of Rtes. 83 and 173, on the south side of the road, is scheduled for Wednesday, April 13. All hearings will be held in the meeting room at the Antioch Village Hall.

In other business, the board:

— authorized the village clerk to make another payment amounting to $112,592 to Indiana Const. for work being done to bring the sanitary plant up to mandated standards. According to Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz, the project is right on schedule with completion expected sometime near the end of August.

The Village of Antioch is seeking federal funds for an FAU project (roads) for the repairing of Depot St. from Rte. 83 to Deep Lake Rd.

The village's share of the cost will be covered by motor fuel tax monies.

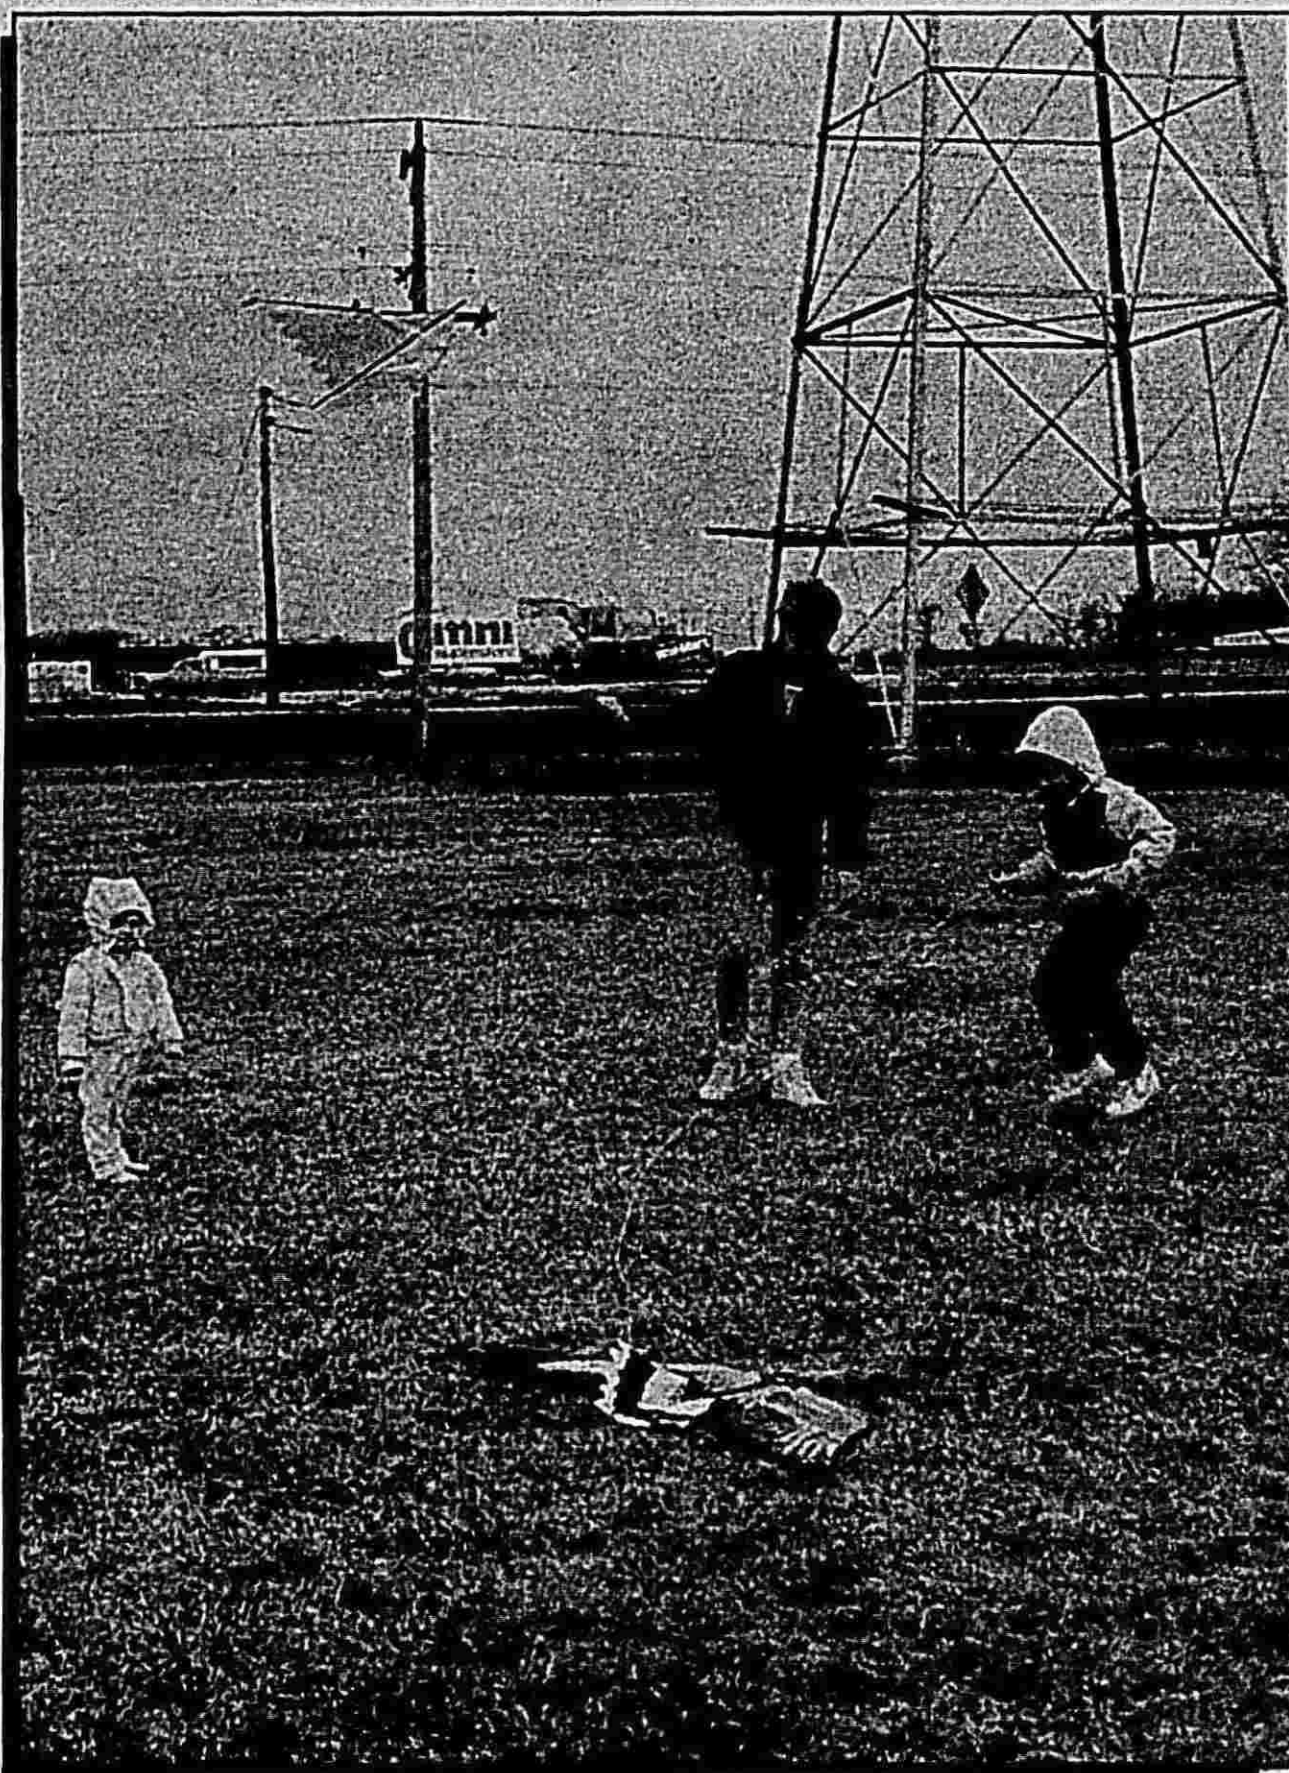

The village board has already authorized the spending of $11,492 for a first phase engineering study on the project.

The village board has also accepted the bid of $2,300 from Able Garage for the installation of aluminum siding on the old green cottage part of the Antioch Senior Center.

In final business, the board, scheduled the Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon to be held on Saturday, May 14.

Osmond also takes over Kempf's job as chairman

by GLORIA DAVIS

Not only did Joanne Osmond beat out long time Republican committeeman and chairman of the committeemen Chuck Kempf, the committeemen from the 14 precincts in Antioch Twp. have elected Osmond to also take Kempf's place as their chairman.

Osmond had been a committeeman in another precinct and when she moved to Kempf's precinct she decided to run against him because she felt "he was not doing his job."

Kempf attributed Osmond's "anonymosity" to an incident when he refused to give her ballots to walk the precinct with because at the time she was just a candidate for that office and not an incumbent.

Grass Lake eyes recount

The Board of Education of Grass Lake Grade School has not been able to officially ask for a recount of the ballot mixing of the education fund tax rate hike referendum because it has not certified the canvass results due five days after the election.

According to Grass Lake Sup. Anthony Przeklasa, the board has said that it wants a recount of the voting in which the 50-cent tax rate hike referendum lost by only two votes, with 624 electors turning out to cast their ballots.

County Clerk Linda Hess has informed the board that the request for a recount cannot be made until after the vote canvas is certified.

The certification is expected to come at the next school board meeting, slated for Wednesday, April 13.

If a recount is still wanted, that can only be done if a petition signed by five school district electors, asking for a recount is turned in.

With almost 50 percent of the voting electors calling for the referendum, it is also expected that this will happen at the same meeting.

The same referendum lost by 13 votes in a previous election. Because the school district was going into its fifth year of operating at a deficit, the board approved some cost cuts which were all remanded but one, after the district electors loudly protested.

The school lunch program, which had been cut, was returned. The school's teaching staff is still short the one-and-one half teacher time that came in the cut.

According to Przeklasa, the board has not discussed any further cost cutting since the referendum failed but it is obvious that some belt tightening will be called for. Besides any losses suffered, this lack of income should confirm no new or expanded programs in the near future.

It's play ball come rain or come shine!

Antioch Little League and girls' softball tryouts will be held from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday, April 9, at AUGS playing fields, rain or shine.

All boys age 10-12 and girls, nine-12, who are not already on teams are eligible and should attend if they are interested in playing ball.

Tryouts will be held inside in case of inclement weather.

Volunteers help victims at Safe Place

The only shelter for abused women and children in this area, A Safe Place, Lake County Crisis Center, thanks its volunteers for much of its success.

Executive Director Barbara Bergard says the shelter offers a full range of opportunities for volunteers. Some work with abused children, others are trained to answer the crisis line, still others do housework.

The shelter has a total of just under 3,000 sq. ft.. It has six bedrooms, a woman's living room, dining room, kitchen, washrooms, offices, laundry, group room for activities, and a children's playroom. "We could use a volunteer handyman," Bergard exhaustedly added.

Volunteers are used to pick up donations. Others are trained to work in the Intervention Program For Domestic Abuse and Violence as court advocates.

The Director says, "We always have a need for volunteers as we have to staff the shelter and the crisis line 24 hours a day. We depend on volunteers for this."

The shelter shows its gratefulness in its statement, "These women and men take time from work at home and in the office to care about the future of our community - always there giving of themselves to meet the needs of others. It is because of our volunteers that we are able to provide successful services to battered women and their children."

The shelter's coordinator of volunteers is Pat Frederico, and while it prides itself on its successes, there remains another need.

"We need a larger facility to house more," says Director Bergard. The shelter can serve a total of 18 women and children at one time. "We are serving less than half in need of housing. We could serve twice as many."

There are no other shelters in Lake County. The closest shelters are in Evanston, Elgin and Rockford."

The shelter has a double need to relocate. Not only to be able to serve more abused women and children, but also because their present lease runs out in a year and a half. Bergard says they are now doing some groundwork looking into the feasibility of raising funds, and needs of a new building.

While the 24-hour crisis line number is 249-4450, anyone interested in becoming a volunteer can call the business number at 249-5147.

New chain dredging needs nine approval

Good news and bad news about the Fox River Chain of Lakes: The good is that the water level still is too low to flood. The bad is that until it rises with a little more rain, the dredging program cannot resume because the 36-ton dredge is landlocked at its winter storage site on a low island in Grass Lake.

There still is some dredging left that was okayed earlier for Grass Lake. This can be started as soon as the dredge is mobile.

In addition, the Chain-O-Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency has applied for state and federal permits for maintenance dredging in Grass Lake, Nippersink Lake, and the channel connecting them, and for a disposal storage site. Hearings and okays of nine other government agencies are needed, which hopefully will be completed by May 1 of this year.

A joint public notice has been issued by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA), and the Illinois Department of Transportation/Division of Water Resources. This states that the purpose of the project is to dredge the main navigational channel for use by recreational boaters.

The announcement states that, when completed, the proposed channel will be six feet deep and 100 feet wide at the bottom, with sloped sides. The existing channel is about four feet deep and was last dredged in 1977 and 1980.

The dredging will remove approximately 105,000 cubic yards of silt which has settled in the navigation channel. This will be done in two stages.

The first 70,000 cubic feet of silt will be pumped into an existing confined disposal facility, located next to the channel between Grass and Nippersink Lakes. It is completely surrounded by a 4,000 foot long embankment of impervious materials.

The silt will remain at Ackerman for one to three years until it drains dry. At that point, it will be trucked to a permanent upland disposal site. Then the remaining 35,000 cubic feet of silt will be dredged, drained and trucked through the same process.

Objections, opinions or a request for a public hearing regarding this application must be filed in writing no later than April 11. Hearing requests must state the reasons "with particularity." The notice adds that "a lack of response will be interpreted as meaning there is no objection to the permit application."

Any comments submitted should refer to the Public Notice application numbers 2798706 and 3178702. Mail them to the District Engineer, Attn: Regulatory Functions Branch, 219 S. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. 60604-1797. Additional information can be obtained by phoning Russell Light, Regulatory Functions Branch, at (312) 353-8213.

The Chain-O-Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency also is seeking at least 20 additional low containment sites for temporary drainage. John Soffiatti, agency chairman, explained that they need a total of at least 60 sites. These must be located approximately every two miles along the way from Wisconsin to the Algonquin Dam, because the dredge can only pump the silt one mile in either direction.

Soffiatti said they also will need more sites on higher lands where the silt can be trucked after it has dried. These also must have approval of the IEPA and the Corps of Engineers, who do not permit filling in of marshlands.

Part of the dredging program also involves a demonstration project to create new wetlands for birds and other wildlife. These would consist of marshy islands in portions of Grass Lake similar to some being built by the Corps of Engineers in other areas.

Fortunately, Soffiatti added, there have not been industries on the chain above Elgin.

Frank Harnish dies; was Mr. Theater at college

Frank J. Harnish, 66, an original faculty member at the College of Lake County, died April 1 at Condell Memorial Hospital of liver failure. He was a faculty member at the college for 18 years until his retirement in 1987.

He was a member of the Communication Arts Department. He taught both speech and theater and founded the college's theater program. Active in the college senate, he served several terms as president. He also was co-founder of the College of Lake County Federation of Teachers.

Born in Lake Preston, S.D., he served four years in the infantry during World War II. His career in education spanned 40 years. Before coming to Lake County he served as professor at Western Illinois, Northern Illinois and Eastern New Mexico universities. While at Northern he was appointed to the governor's Commission on Higher Education, which developed the state junior college system.

Mr. Harnish served as consultant for numerous Lake County community and high school theater organizations. He also was the recipient of a number of honors, including the National Freedom Foundation Award and, most recently, the Outstanding Illinois Citizen Award.

Mr. Harnish is survived by his wife, Dorothy (nee Smith) and a daughter, Denise Dvorak. A son, James, and a daughter, Margot, preceded him in death. Services were private.

Edison to cut summer rates

Lower electricity rates for Commonwealth Edison's 2.8 million residential customers will automatically go into effect Sunday,

May 15, barring an objection by the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC), under a new rate schedule filed by the company. The filing calls for a total reduction of about 24 percent below current summer rates over the next two years—12.3 percent this year and the remaining amount in time for the 1989 summer billing period.

Under the filing, non-summer rates will be increased to make the change "revenue neutral" to the company. All residential customers are billed at the higher summer rate for four full billing months and at the lower non-summer rate for eight full billing months.

The summer electricity bill of the average single family residence will decrease approximately $45 this year under the new rate schedule. The bill for an average apartment will drop by about $20. During the second year, summer bills will be reduced by a total of $84 and $38, respectively.

Edison opposed the introduction of higher summer rates in 1979 and since then has sought the reduction and the introduction of a more level year-round rate structure. Higher summer rates were introduced by the ICC in the belief that they would discourage electrical demand on peak air conditioning days.

In spite of summer rates, the demand for electricity continues to grow on hot, humid days, reaching record levels during the summer of 1987.

Benitez wins
'Golden Egg'
at parade

Antioch Parks and Recreation had a fine turnout at the Annual Easter Parade on March 26.

The Antioch VFW led the parade with many colorful followers. The parade included St. Peter's Grumpbusters, the local Girl Scouts, Linda Hess the county clerk, Raymond Chevy-Olds, Little Miss Antioch and much more!

The parade started at the Antioch Community High School parking lot and went up Main St. to the water tower on Toft St.

At the water tower the children hunted for Easter candy. All the children who participated in the Easter hunt received all sorts of Easter candy.

Erica Benitez found a "Golden Egg" which entitles her to a free pool pass this summer at the Antioch Aqua Center.

Along with the hunt, there was a Jellybean Contest. The winner was David Murphy of Antioch, guessing 366, only five away from the correct amount of 371. He too, received a free pool pass at the Antioch Aqua Center and the jar of jellybeans.

Second prize went to three year old, J.R. Plotz guessing 364. J.R. was only seven off. He received a jar of Easter M&M's candy.

They're big winners

Administration, committee eye revamp differently

The meeting on Tuesday night concerning the proposed reorganization of Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 drew from 30 to 50 parents.

As promised at the last meeting with the subcommittees and committee appointed to look into different proposals early in March, Supt. Don Skidmore reported on research done into the various proposals.

According to Skidmore he and the principals of Antioch Lower Grade, W. C. Petty, and Oakland Grade School have chosen the proposal that has the Lower Grade School and Oakland kindergarten through third grade and W. C. Petty having grades four and five.

Skidmore said that this proposal "achieves the greatest educational equity throughout the school district for all students in the district at the least possible cost to the community. It will also give us an organizational pattern to handle future growth with the least disruption at the least possible cost."

He added that "this will leave growth room at Oakland where we have the most room for expansion. It costs $65,000 to add on one classroom. When building a new building, the cost per classroom is over $180,000 per room."

According to Gary Burnette, who is the chairman of the subcommittee from Antioch Lower Grade School, (each school has a subcommittee made up of two teachers, the principal and three parents) the K3-K3-4-5 plan Skidmore prefers is the one that will move the most kids and teachers around. His figures are 18 teachers and 531 students will be changing schools. It will take the children from Oakwood Knolls and North Ave. (K-3) out of the Lower Grade School and move them to Oakland. Lower Grade and Oakland fourth and fifth graders will move to Petty and Petty's first four grades will move to the Lower Grade School.

One of the biggest problems calling for a reorganization is the fact that the Lower Grade School, which has a capacity of 376, is over capacity and there is no room for expansion.

Burnette and the parents on his committee favor the kindergarten through fourth at the Lower Grade and Oakland and kindergarten through fifth at Petty. He claims this will mean moving only five teachers and 118 students. The K3-K3-4-5 proposal would put 336 pupils at Antioch Lower Grade while the one preferred by Burnette, etc. will leave only 318 students in the school that has the least room.

Burnette says that when the reorganization took place in the Lake Villa Grade School Dist. it was done after full community discussions at many school board meetings.

"This is being done outside of school board meetings." He adds that he feels that the general public does not know what is going on this way.

With the committee already making recommendations to the board, it is expected that a decision will be made by the board on the reorganization plan at the meeting set for Tuesday, April 26.

Next week, this reporter will take to board members, parents, principals and teachers and further to Dr. Skidmore on the subject.

Fields refused meals aid
because operation OK

A few weeks ago Blaire Fire, who claimed to be the volunteer coordinator of the meals program for Antioch Twp., operated now through Catholic Charities, Waukegan, approached the Antioch News-Reporter.

He asked for help in asking community organizations for financial help in making the program, that presently brings 30 disabled area people over 60 a hot meal five days a week, an independently operating one.

Fire said that the federal monies that were now going to Catholic Charities and then to the meal program were tenuous.

He also feels that more people would receive help if the program were operating independently.

Fire had said that he had approached Antioch Twp. Sup. Jim Fields, who at first seemed to be willing to give $4,000 towards the program, and then changed his mind.

Fields said that he talked to Bobby Jones from Catholic Charities and came to the conclusion the program was operating just fine as is.

Paul Howard from the Antioch Senior Center, where the food for the meals program is picked up daily, said that when he first took over in 1986, Fire "was invaluable" in helping with the meals program.

"Now that we have the hang of things, he is still the coordinator of the teams of drivers that deliver the meals," said Howard. Daily, two people from St. Peters, the United Methodist Church, St. Ignatius and St. Stephens do the delivery.

"Blair has a phone in his car and he usually is available if there are any problems with the drivers," said Howard.

Millburn sets program for new kindergarten students

Millburn School is offering district parents of three, four and five-year-old preschoolers a "Kindergarten Preparation Workshop" on Monday, at 7 p.m. on April 11 at the school.

Through the efforts of staff personnel, parents of future kindergarten students will have the opportunity to learn how to help prepare their child for classroom experiences. Developmental areas discussed will be speech and language; small and large motor skills; academic skills; conceptual experiences and social and emotional adjustments to the classroom environment.

Parents of the 1988-89 kindergarten children who attend this program will also have the opportunity to schedule a specific time for their child's screening which will be held on May 11 and 12. Those parents who are unable to attend the program should call the school at (312) 356-8331. Kindergarten registration will be held on May 11 and 12 at the school. Parents should bring an original certificate of their child's birth - a hospital certificate is not valid verification of a child's birth. Kindergarten students must be five-years-old before Sept. 1 to be eligible for the 1988-89.

Golf Team

Scott Johnson, a former athlete at Antioch High School, is a member of the 1988 Augustana College golf team. Johnson, a 1985 graduate of Antioch, is a junior at Augustana. He earned a letter last year when he played seven rounds of golf for the Vikings and averaged 83.0 per match.

Letter To The Editor

Prefers old days Editor:

Recently I read the newspaper publication titled "Antioch, Illinois".

After reading this publication it is my opinion that in some ways in 1988 Antioch is going backward instead of forward; or at the very best, Antioch seems at a standstill in two areas.

Little by little, the small town began to add the things necessary to attract businesses and people. It seemed to be a town with a plan. It was a town with a future. It was a town that seemed to plan its growth for the benefit of it's every increasing population.

In 1926 the Antioch Palace was built. The enormous complex offered dancing, bowling, billiards, lunchrooms, and sporting events. This had to have been a fantastic place to offer so much to its citizens so long ago.

Years ago Antioch did what is could to not only keep it's own towns people content and close to home, but to attract people from neighboring communities.

When did this change? When did Antioch stop caring if it's citizens took their business elsewhere? Why is it that Antioch's progress in some areas has stopped?

Why has it become necessary for Antiochans to spend their shopping dollars in Round Lake, Waukegan, Vernon Hills, Kenosha, and even Chicago in order to get a variety of merchandise at reasonable prices?

Why is it that our youngsters have to travel to Round Lake in order to enjoy an indoor roller rink? Why do parents have to drive all the way to Zion in order to introduce their children to figure skating and ice hockey? Why does Antioch H. S. have to bus students to Zion in order to participate in the sport of hockey?

Antioch should accommodate its citizens with better shopping and more year round entertainment opportunities for the youngsters.

Why doesn't a growing community, such as Antioch, house more than one movie theater?

Wake up Antioch, quit vegetating, start caring enough to keep your citizens at home. Open you doors to a large shopping mall. Show the younger generation that you care enough to offer them one more movie house, a roller rink, and an ice rink right in their own back yard.

Anyone agreeing with my letter, please writeto the village offices and or to the newspaper.

Mrs. Betty Conwell
30 year Antioch resident

Appeals board, tax group win in Marriott court rule

Lake County State's Attny. Fred Foreman has announced that his office has successfully prosecuted the latest in a series of Great America Theme Park tax cases. The latest, a ruling on the 1982-83 taxes, will net the collection of $464,342.44 in real property taxes from Marriott Corp.

Marriott filed an appeal with the Illinois Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) stating that its theme park was over assessed by $61 million. Foreman's office and a group of 11 Warren Twp. taxing bodies asserted the park was under assessed.

Monday, Circuit Court Judge Charles F. Scott affirmed the decision of the PTAB which increased the park's 1982 and 1983 assessments from $61 to $73 million resulting in the increase.

Marriott had contended that the taxpayer's request for a reduction can only result in taxes being reduced or remaining the same.

The defendants in the case all expressed pleasure that the five-year plus battle, which began with the 1981 assessment of the park, is over.

Helen S. Rozenberg, chief deputy state's attorney, was lead counsel for the case. The taxing districts were represented by the Chicago law firm of Robbins, Schwartz, Nicholas, Lifton, &

Taylor. Kenneth Cortesi, assistant attorney general, represented the PTAB.

CUB launching fund drive

In debt from its fights with Illinois utilities, the Citizens Utility Board (CUB) has launched a statewide membership recruitment drive to pump new blood into the organization's fight against companies like Commonwealth Edison.

The consumer advocacy group is using a new state law which allows it to solicit members through inserts in state government mailings. The first 600,000 of those inserts will be received by consumers this week in vehicle registration forms sent out by the Secretary of State's Office.

"CUB is currently challenging over $4 billion in new utility rate increases, so the stakes for Illinois consumers have never been higher," CUB president Joe Wawrzyk said.

The insert program was approved by the state legislature in November to keep CUB alive and fighting for ratepayers. Over the next three months, 3 million CUB flyers will be included in the Secretary of State's mailings. Beginning April 15, the CUB inserts also will be mailed with state income tax refund checks.

Klemm back on council

State Rep. Dick Klemm (R-Crystal Lake) has been reappointed to the State Emergency Medical Services Council (EMS) by House Republican Leader Lee Daniels (R-Elmhurst).

The EMS Council acts in an advisory capacity to the Illinois Department of Public Health. Its main functions are to review and comment on any proposed EMS plan prepared by the Department of Public Health. The council also reviews all EMS proposals to apply for available funds through state and federal grants or contracts.

DOCTOR'S FORUM

PMS: SYMPTOMS AND TREATMENT

Dr. Mark Bowman

Pre-menstrual syndrome, more commonly known as PMS, affects nine out of 10 women. Because there is no straightforward way to detect and diagnose PMS, it is misunderstood by health care professionals and by women alike.

There is no known cause for PMS. Many theories for its cause have been examined, including: hormonal imbalance, vitamin deficiencies, water retention and psychological variables.

The effects of PMS vary greatly. As many as 20 to 40 percent of women who have PMS experience interruptions in their daily, normal routines. A blood test or physical findings cannot definitively pinpoint PMS. Only a group of symptoms during a specific time within the menstrual cycle can. Common symptoms include headache, swelling of breasts, abdominal bloating, swelling of hands and legs, fatigue, tension, irritability and changes in appetite.

Before PMS can be diagnosed and treated, other conditions which may cause the symptoms—such as endometriosis or ovarian cysts—must be ruled out.

The likelihood of PMS seems to increase with age and with number of births. It is also more common among women with a history of pre-eclampsia (toxemia of pregnancy). Exposure to stress and lack of exercise are contributing factors. There also seems to be a higher incidence of PMS among women who live with men, than among women who do not.

Psychological or emotional disruptions are also common PMS symptoms. The number of psychiatric admissions, accidents and suicide attempts increase during the premenstrual phase. Recently, PMS has been used as a mitigating factor for criminal trials. However, no woman has ever been declared not guilty by reason of PMS.

Possible treatments for PMS are as varied as its causes. Changes in diet, such as reducing intake of caffeine and alcohol, and eating smaller meals, can help reduce some symptoms. Vitamin supplements, especially vitamin B6, and daily exercise are also helpful.

Over-the-counter medications, such as Midol, may be beneficial. There are also a number of prescription medications which can be used. Which treatment is best is determined by the patient's specific symptom complex.

If you or someone you know suffers from PMS, please make an appointment with your physician, or call the Heritage Medical Center, 312/395-0085, for more information.

STUBBED TOES

Getting out of bed in the dark is hazardous to toes. Stubbing them into an unseen obstacle is always painful and is a frequent cause of toe fractures. Worse, some people don't realize they have broken a toe and needed treatment may be neglected.

What to do about stubbed toes?

Minimize swelling with cold compresses or ice bag. Apply for 20 minutes at 40-minute intervals.

See your podiatrist as soon as possible. Toe fractures need prompt attention.

If you have a simple, undisplaced fracture, care by the podiatrist usually produces early relief. But if X-rays reveal a displaced or angulated break, prompt "setting" by the podiatrist is in order. Such fractures, if not promptly treated, might result in painfully deformed toes.

CUB mail won't cost

State Rep. John S. Matijevich (D-North Chicago) said that he is happy to learn that the Citizens Utility Board (CUB) will be "saved" by the implementation of a bill that he sponsored. In recent days, CUB membership solicitation notices have been included in 600,000 vehicle registration forms mailed by the Secretary of State's office. The inserts seek donations of $5 or more from consumers to become CUB members.

Matijevich said a spokesman for Secretary of State Jim Edgar came to his desk to let him know that the state mailing inserts won't cost taxpayers one cent. "He informed me that CUB has cooperated fully with the Secretary of State's office to keep the inserts light so no additional postage was needed," Matijevich said.

When the bill was debated, Matijevich argued that the inserts would not cost taxpayers anything. Gov. Thompson vetoed the measure saying it could cost up to $10 million. "My claims are holding true," Matijevich said, "and the veto override is proving to be responsible, and a boon to consumers."

Building watchdogs to convene

Representation from 11 of Lake County's 16 townships is expected at a meeting of Citizens for Better Building and Zoning at 10 a.m. Saturday, April 9, at Vernon Township Community Services, 23306 N. Main St., Prairie View.

CBBZ was organized last fall to promote the cause for enforcement of the county's building and zoning codes and bring about the replacement of County Building Officer Robert Streicher.

Status reports on the documentation of building and zoning irregularities from all unincorporated parts of the county will be presented, according to Mary Campbell of Lake Villa, a director.

Lakeside Tool Corp. recently opened a sales office and machine shop at 1018 27th St. in Zion.

Lakeside Tool specializes in computer controlled precision machining, including tool and die, grinding, machine building, prototype tooling, production machining, milling and turnings.

Quality of lakes discussed

The Lake County Health Dept. will conduct public forums on the Department's Lakes Management programs at the following locations in May. These forums are sponsored by the following townships:

The Antioch Twp. Hall, Antioch Twp., 99 Hwy 173, Twp. Hall, Antioch, on May 10, 1988, 7 p.m.

The Town Hall, Grant Twp., 411 Washington St., Ingleside, on May 11, 1988, 7 p.m.

The Lake Villa Twp. Park, Lake Villa Twp., Community Room, Lake Villa, on May 24, 7:30 p.m.

Anyone interested in the water quality of the lakes or wanting to learn more about water resources in Lake County is encouraged to attend.

Retired teachers

The Retired Teachers Assoc. of Lake County will hold its monthly luncheon meeting on Tuesday, April 12 at noon at the Northern Chalet Restaurant, 1760 Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville. There will be a slide presentation on Crime Prevention.

The Jackson dilemma

All of a sudden, Jesse Jackson has become a political problem for the nation of major if not monumental proportions. The question no longer is whether a black man can run for President. Hard-charging, non-stop talking Jackson has proved that beyond a doubt. The question being asked now is whether a black man can be nominated for President?; moreover, can a black man be elected President?

There should be no comfort in the reported handwringing by Democratic bigwigs who see a Jackson candidacy as a ticket for defeat in November, with probable loss of the Senate, perhaps the House, and scores of state and county offices as the nation divides along racial lines.

If the Jackson candidacy is a dilemma for Democrats, it also is a matter of utmost concern to Republicans and all Americans as well. The problem lies in the fact that everyone is acutely aware that Jackson has shattered the myth about a black not being able to seek high office and for that reason Jesse Jackson has been receiving different—and special—treatment by the politicians, the press and the people. It is high time that all of us start looking at Jesse Jackson squarely in the eyes and listening to what he says.

When Jackson talks about need for new taxes, his soak-the-rich talk should be labeled simplistic. When Jesse gets applause for bashing the corporations, it should be pointed out that this is at cross purposes with his aims of improving U.S. competitiveness and job creation. Jackson's talk about love for each other and sacrifice sounds nice, but it doesn't make much sense in the context that he doesn't have a nickel's worth of experience in government. Some of Jesse's foreign policy views are outrageous.

Only a handful of outspoken newspaper columnists like Mike Bayko has dared to suggest that America is looking at Jesse Jackson in blinders. If Jackson and his zealous supporters genuinely feel that his candidacy is as viable as claimed, they should welcome fellow politicians, the press and the people, according to Jesse the same treatment as other candidates. Take the kid gloves off. That's the American way.

AIDS testing advances

Even though some prominent elected officials and a fairly substantial number of citizens are against pre-marriage AIDS testing, officialdom is moving ahead in a low-key way to implement AIDS control measures.

The Illinois General Assembly has mandated that public schools adopt an AIDS policy. Now other governmental agencies are adopting AIDS testing policies. Fox Lake adopted a requirement for AIDS testing for all future police officers in what is believed to be the first police AIDS control or-chance in the area.

As was brought out in the Fox Lake action, AIDS not only is a matter of current concern, but something that has long-range implications as in the case of medical claims and pension provisions.

Public officials are taking a prudent step when they face the AIDS question head-on. The disease poses such a present and future danger to society that any control measure cannot be taken lightly, including the pre-marriage test.

Drug search supported

Even as recently as several years ago, parents and concerned citizens would have reacted with horror at the thought of an unannounced drug search at the local high school—with dogs—no less. Now such searches are commonplace, part of the cooperative effort going on between educators and law enforcement officials to root out drug violations in the community.

The Lake County Sheriff's Dept.

maintains an excellent team of men and dogs who are specialists in searching for drugs. We fully support the unannounced sweep for drug violators.

When Dr. Griff Powell, superintendent of Grayslake High School, announced that a drug search will be conducted sometime this spring, nary an eyebrow was raised. Grayslake is drawing the line, however, at strip searching and student autos will not be involved in the search.

Tourists replace jobs

When Midwesterners take vacations, they don't go too far from home. That's the finding of a study conducted by the Illinois Dept. of Commerce and Community Affairs/Office of Tourism.

More and more, Midwesterners are expected to do much of their sight-seeing in Illinois, the survey showed. Of adults surveyed, their interest in Illinois increased when they were aware of Illinois tourism advertising. Illinois has the biggest tourism advertising budget of any of the states.

What do folks like most about coming to Illinois? State fairs (82 percent) top the list. Other points of interest include historic sites (41 percent), scenic drives, local festivals and antique shopping excursions.

Chicago still is the major tourist magnet, but state promotional advertising is attracting visitors from the Chain O'Lakes to Carbondale. All of the visitor activity has impact on the economy here and elsewhere throughout the state.

During 1987 the average unemployment rate dipped to 7.4 percent, .7 percent below the 1986 Illinois level and 1.9 percent lower than the pre-recession levels of 1979. While manufacturing jobs in Illinois continue to be relocated to Sunbelt areas, service industries like tourism pick up the slack.

Mothers suffer, babies die in stand-off talks

by BILL SCHROEDER

While pre-natal care of Lake County's indigent mothers is suffering, the Lake County Medical Society and members of the building and health committee of the County Board are hassling over what just about everyone agrees is a crisis.

Members of the Medical Society's task force attempting to develop a solution are concerned that the Lake County Health Dept. closed its pre-natal clinic in late 1987 when the last two physicians providing obstetrical services returned to private practice. About 500 public aid patients a year were getting pre-natal and delivery care at the clinic. A majority of the babies were delivered at St. Therese Hospital with a substantial number at Victory Hospital and Condell Hospital.

The Medical Society proposed a solution which included raising the payment for physicians services to approximately $800, about half the usual fee for pre-natal care and delivering a baby. Since the clinic closed, indigent women are going to the nearest hospital emergency room to deliver with little or no pre-natal care. Dr. Steven Patsic, head of the health department, reported that infant mortality has increased.

Members of the County Board committee headed by Dist. 1 Rep. Helen Belmont Amendola weren't impressed with the Medical Society, declaring that the problem can be solved simply if the doctors will support and encourage the medical staffs of local hospitals to give attending privileges to newly hired obstetricians who would work for the Lake County Health Dept.

One committee member described the Medical Society recommendation as "self-serving" and an unfair burden to taxpayers. The underlying problem is staffing privileges. The County Board reps feel the issue is on dead center. Members of Amendola's committee include Tony Serdar, Mike Graham and Norman Geary.

Political leaders feel a Medical Society proposal to "spread" indigent cases around the county is unfair. They said it would be unreasonable to expect expectant public aid mothers, most of whom are in the northeast part of the county to go to Good Shepherd Hospital in the extreme southwest part of the county.

Simply put, the county wants to restore the pre-natal plan with local hospitals accepting the county-paid doctors. Members of the Medical Society Task Force held another meeting Thursday afternoon, April 7 at Condell Hospital. While the doctors and politicians are fretting and fuming, babies are dying and mothers are suffering. That doesn't make much sense. Can't the two sides get together?

DREAM—Ray Rockenbach, retired merchant who keeps busy as president of the Grayslake Historical Society, says he has a recurring dream that he wants to spark to reality. "I keep dreaming that the historical society has a model working farm that attracts thousands of visitors every year who can see how a real farm looked when Lake County was a farming area," exclaims Ray. Rockenbach is working tirelessly to make the dream come true. What he needs most, he says, is an angel to buy one of the few remaining farmsteads in central Lake County that could be transformed into a living museum.

NICE WORK—At the annual shareholders meeting Friday, April 8, of Abbott Laboratories it was reported that R.A. "Bob" Schoellhorn, chairman of the board and chief executive officer, received compensation last year of $1,328,963, tops for the company's five highest paid executives. While this might not be such great shakes compared to pro sports stars, executive pay is based on a carefully formulated plan keyed to performance of the company that must exceed a base amount of earnings equal to 15 percent of the common shareholders' equity, which means that the chief did OK because so did everyone else.

GOOD LUCK—Congratulations to the Rev. William J. Harry, O. Carm., and Sister Diane M. O'Donnell, BVM, the new leadership team at Carmel High School who will take over as president and principal, respectively, when the boys' school and girls' school are merged officially July 1.

Both the educators are more than familiar with Carmel and Lake County. Father Bill has been boys' principal since 1985 and Sister Diane, currently girls' guidance chairperson, is in her second stint at Carmel.

One of the big public questions is whether the "new look" Carmel will be coed. That answer, and a number of others will be dealt with before the new school year begins.

Grant, Wauconda decline as Avon, Ela, Cuba rise

THE PRIMARY ELECTION revealed dramatic shifts of power in two pivotal County Board districts - four and six in west Lake County.

In Dist. 4, Avon Twp. continued to flex its muscle, giving challengers Larry Leafblad and Suzi Schmidt an almost two-to-one margin over incumbents Jim Fields and Fred Popp. The fabled Grant Twp. machine crumbled like a castle of sand. Regular Republicans have always loved Grant because it could be counted on to deliver for them. But not any more.

Of the four townships which comprise Dist. 4, Grant only produces the third largest number of votes. Its influence in past elections has been exaggerated, though, because once local party leaders chose candidates, Grant would produce a lopsided majority for those endorsed candidates. This time it was practically a dead heat, with Fields and Schmidt edging Popp and Leafblad, in that order. Grant also had one of the lowest voter turnouts it has seen in a long time, so that it produced the lowest number of votes in the district.

The election would have been a complete blowout for Schmidt and Leafblad had Antioch Twp. not produced a majority of two-to-one for Fields, and just under that for Popp.

Clearly, there is a major realignment going on in the district, with Avon and Antioch as the big dogs, Lake Villa in ascendance, and Grant in complete disarray.

In Dist. 6, Wauconda once dominated. It still produced a strong majority for Wayne Miller and Jerry Beyer, but it was not nearly enough to offset the newfound strength of Cuba and Ela only able to pick up two seats on the board. That is enough to give them a thin majority of 13 to 11 on the board, when they combine their strength with that of eastern Democrats. But nine regular seats were up for election this time, as opposed to only one independent seat. With more organization and a determination to challenge the regulars in every district, independents should have been able to pick up more than two seats. In two years, four regular seats will be up and six independent seats will be at stake. That could be a watershed election, because either side could pickup enough seats to end the shifting majority and take control of the board well into the next decade.

Round Lake Heights has been heading for financial crisis for years. Last week, that crisis struck with a vengeance. The village was unable to meet its April 1 payroll, and it appears it won't be able to meet its April 15 payroll either. The board laid off four of its six police officers and only left 80 hours per week to divide amongst the chief and two officers.

There is no light at the end of the tunnel, either. Had the village made serious plans for a commercial and retail district five years ago, it might be able to survive. Now, it could not get such a district in place in time to forestall dissolution.

Raising taxes is not the answer, either. The village already has the highest municipal tax, while providing the least services, of any village in the Round Lake area. The combination of incredibly high taxes and few services would quickly lead to a precipitous drop in property values.

The only viable options the village has are to either dissolve or to annex to neighboring Round Lake Beach. Any other course will simply prolong the inevitable, and homeowners will pay the price of any stalling.

It would be wise to reflect upon the fact that the lack of industrial and commercial growth is a major factor in what will be the end of a 25-year-old village.

Women grow in workplace

By State Rep. Dick Klemm

The face of the American family is changing. Twenty years ago, the vast majority of fathers left for work in the morning while mothers stayed home and cared for the children. Today, many families are financially supported by both the father and the mother and indications are the two wage-earner family will be the norm, not the exception, in the future. Recent statistics show that in less than 10 years, two thirds of all pre-school children will have both parents in the work place.

According to still other statistics, between now and the turn of the century, 90 percent of all new entrants into the work force will be women and minorities; of this number, 63 percent will be women. In Illinois state government alone, women today comprise 52 percent of total employees. By looking at these figures, we can see that women are becoming an integral part of our labor force, whether in the public or private sector.

A three-bill package recently introduced in the Illinois House addresses this fast-growing segment of our work force and can help make Illinois a leader in job opportunities for the 21st century. The legislative package is designed to provide better job opportunities for women by opening up traditionally male-dominated state jobs; giving employers a tax credit for providing day care; and ensuring that women have the chance to hold blue-collar jobs, such as electrician, plumber or carpenter.

Past legislative efforts have focused on raising salaries for women in female-dominated jobs, such as secretaries and nursing. However, the proposed legislation introduced in Springfield attacks the wage gap; and opens up the system for women, providing incentives to them, government and employers. It forges a partnership between these groups and looks ahead to the future.

The first bill in the package would require each state government department to develop and implement a plan to achieve 35 percent female employment in male-dominated categories. Under the bill, the state Department of Central Management Services (CMS) would identify and notify each state department having job classifications more than 85 percent male-dominated.

Each department notified would then submit a plan to CMS by July 1, 1989, outlining the methods by which the department can achieve 35 percent female employment by July 1, 1993. There would be no retribution for not reaching the 35 percent goal, and qualifications, not gender, would be the deciding factor in employment. The bill does not intend to set up a quota system.

The second bill in the package would provide a tax credit for employers who provide day care on their premises. Under the bill, a 10 percent tax credit of the total cost of providing day care would be given to persons employing more than five people. The credit would apply to tax years ending on or after Dec. 31, 1989.

By working with employers to provide day care, we're giving our children security, a closer relationship with parents and offering business a chance to get in on the ground level of our children's future.

Rep. Klemm

The package's third bill would leave no stone unturned in providing women better job opportunities. Under the legislation, unions employed on public works projects would be required to undertake affirmative action programs to ensure that women have every opportunity to apply for jobs. Businesses holding state contracts are already required to abide by such programs.

As more college-educated young women enter the workforce, they're meeting with more success in the professional and managerial fields, but little progress has been made in blue-collar areas, such as electricians, carpenters and plumbers. The recently-introduced legislation will change that.

It's obvious women have become a vital part of our work force. With this legislative package, awareness of women's needs will be heightened, job opportunities will be opened and Illinois can move its labor force and its families into the 1990s.

Editor's note: State Rep. Dick Klemm, a Republican, resides in Crystal Lake where he also operates a manufacturing concern. He represents the 63rd Dist. which includes parts of Lake and McHenry counties.

Expect equalization factor of 1

Lake County has been issued a tentative property assessment equalization factor of 1.0000, according to Roger D. Sweet, director of the Illinois Department of Revenue.

The property assessment equalization factor, often called the "multiplier" is the method used to achieve uniform property assessments among counties as required by law. This equalization is particularly important because some of the state's 6,600 local taxing districts overlap into two or more counties (e.g. school districts, junior college districts, fire protection districts). If there was no equalization among counties, substantial inequities among taxpayers with comparable properties would result.

State law requires property in Illinois to be assessed at one-third (1/3) of its market value. Farm property is assessed differently, with farm homesites and dwellings subject to regular assessing and equalization procedures, but with farmland and farm buildings assessed according to standards based on productivity.

The equalization factor is determined annually for each county by comparing the sales price of individual properties sold over the past three years to the assessed value placed on those properties by the county assessor.

If this three-year average level of assessment is one-third of market value, the equalization factor will be one (1). If the average level of assessment is greater than one-third of market value, the equalization factor will be less than one (1). And if the average level of assessment is less than one-third of market value, the equalization factor will be greater than one (1).

Assessments in Lake County are at 33.57 percent of market value, based on sales of properties in 1984, 1985, and 1986.

The equalization factor currently being assigned is for 1987 taxes, payable in 1988.

Last year's equalization factor for the county was 1.0000.

The tentative factor is subject to change (1) if the County Board of Review takes actions which significantly affect the county assessment or (2) if local officials or others can present data showing that the Department of Revenue's estimates of the average level of assessments in the county should be adjusted. A public hearing on the tentative multiplier will be held between 20 and 30 days after the tentative factor is published in a newspaper of general circulation within the county.

A change in the equalization factor does not mean total property tax bills will increase or decrease. Tax bills are determined by local taxing bodies when they request money each year to provide services to local citizens. If the amount requested by local taxing districts is no greater than the amount received in the previous year, then total property taxes will not increase even if assessments may have increased.

The assessed value of an individual property determines what portion of the tax burden a specific taxpayer will assume.

Toastmasters to hold contest

POSTAL EXAM

The Elgin, McHenry, Antioch, Gurnee, Libertyville, DeKalb, Gena, Roselle, Bartlett and Wheaton Post Offices will be accepting applications from the general public for the Rural Carrier exam until further notice.

The starting salary varies depending on the size of the route carried and can go as high as $31,000 per year plus excellent benefits. When positions become available the individuals with the highest scores are hired. You should not miss your chance to fill one of these highly desirable and competitive positions.

STUDY GUIDE by POSTAL EXAM PREPARATION CENTER

The study guide by P.E.P.C. was researched and written by the foremost authority in America on how to gain employment with the Postal Service. The author, Mr. Stephen McNally, has the following qualifications:

- 1) former postal employee
- 2) currently a Ph.D. in education
- 3) averaged 96 on two of the strictly scored Rural Carrier exams

Mr. McNally, who averaged 100% on 7 out of 7 of the various Postal exams stated, "The Rural Carrier exam is by far the most difficult of the 5 exams commonly offered to the general public." For this reason, proper preparation is essential to obtaining one's maximum score. You may purchase this study guide for $15.00 (1st class postage and handling included).

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Vernon Hills

T.J. Maxx, one of the nation's fastest growing off-price retail store chains, will hold a grand opening for its new store in Vernon Hills. The store is located in River Tree Ct. at the southeast corner of Milwaukee Ave. and Rte. 60, across from Hawthorn Mall. The grand opening will take place on Sunday, April 10, from noon until 8 p.m. John Bank will be manager of the new store, assisted by Mariam Wayne.

Grayslake

Ken Idstein of Grayslake has been named loan officer by Block and Co. Mortgage Bankers of Lake Forest. In his new post, Idstein will offer prospective clients various mortgage products, including 30/15 year fixed and a variety of ARMs. Idstein has worked in the mortgage banking industry in Lake County for three years. Before that, he was a realtor. He serves on the board of directors for the Grayslake Chamber of Commerce, is a member of the Grayslake Exchange Club and the Affiliates and Education Committees of the Lake County Board of Realtors.

Spring Grove

Curtis Kvaas, 38, has been promoted to operations officer/senior program analyst of Affiliated Banc Group, Inc., in Morton Grove. The promotion was announced by company Chairman Marvin E. Neland. Kvaas and his family live in Spring Grove and he is a graduate of Grant Community High School. Affiliated Banc Group, Inc., is a holding company for six banks in the Chicago area.

Lake Villa

Donald R. Fechtner, a resident of Antioch for 16 years, has opened his own Allstate Insurance Office in Lake Villa, at the intersection of Rtes. 83 (Milwaukee Ave.) and 132 (Grand Ave.) in Lake Village Plaza (400 E. Grand Ave.) Fechtner serves both Illinois and Wisconsin. He is a 14 year veteran with Allstate and has achieved numerous awards. Some of them are: Life Millionaire (five years), Top Illinois Retail Agent (two years), Life Leader, Top Group Life and Health Producer in a nine state zone (producing more group sales independently than each of the nine states produced alone) and others. Fechtner, his wife Judy, and son Marc are active in Grass Lake School.

Lake County

The College of Lake County Small Business Development Center is offering the workshop Recordkeeping for Contractors (CON-101-102) on Tuesday, April 26 from 6:30-9:30 p.m. The session will be held in room COO3 at the Grayslake campus. The workshop is designed for contractors and potential contractors who want to set up or review their recordkeeping system. Topics will include internal recordkeeping (revenues, expenses, job cost control, financial statements), recordkeeping systems and services (filing systems, microcomputers, outside accountants), and federal and state record requirements. Richard Snapp, owner of Richard Snapp Accounting Service, Libertyville, will be the instructor. Workshop fee is $35. For details, contact Kathy Anderson at (312)223-3633.

Duxler auto grows in flat industry

In 1923, when most were still thinking about horse and buggy, Sam Duxler had the foresight to begin wholesaling automobile tires. He located his store on Belmont Ave. in Chicago and his success paralleled the growth of the auto industry. Joined by his son, Woody, the Duxlers' family business prospered without a hitch and grew to be one of the country's largest tire distribution centers by the 1960s.

It was the advent of radial tires in the early 1970s that put the brakes on the growth of the tire industry. Because all-weather radial tires last twice as long as conventional tires and eliminate the need for snow tires, dealers everywhere lost more than half of their business. Numerous wholesalers eventually went out of business. The Duxlers, on the other hand, with 50 years experience, buckled their steel belts and detoured the roadblock...

Under the guidance of Woody's son, Larry, the Duxler Tire Co. expanded to retail sales and complete car maintenance. As the youthful and insightful third generation president, Harry Duxler, a Lake County resident of Riverwoods, recognized that service, rather than volume, would be the wave of the future. To that end, the Duxlers opened their first retail tire and car care center in Libertyville in 1978. The focus of this center was, and still remains, personal service and value geared toward the educated consumer. Business is comprised of 50 percent auto maintenance and 50 percent tire sales. Additional suburban locations quickly followed, and this spring brings the opening of Duxler's eighth center in Lake Zurich.

Striving to offer customers the ultimate in car accessories, Duxler's tire and car care facility in Wheeling also offers the luxurious "Car Boutique." Owner Scott Krause can outfit an auto with anything from a sheepskin seat cover to a 24K gold plated license frame to a $20,000 customized "body kit." The Car Boutique also offers "auto detailing," anything from a simple shampoo to a two-day cleaning marathon. The Wheeling center also houses Nova Cellular, offering a variety of car telephones. In the wheel department, Duxler offers customers the latest in aerodynamic, highly stylized wheels, appropriately displayed on chrome grids purchased at the Apparel Mart.

Not unlike their stores, Duxler's marketing techniques are a cut above the usual. To promote their 57th year in business, customers were offered a 57 cents oil change. With lines backed up for hours, employees were quickly recruited to serve coffee and donuts curbside. When the lines didn't let up, newspapers and lunches were served to patrons waiting patiently in their cars.

Duxler also hosts a semi-annual Car Care Clinic for the first 80 women on a waiting list that usually climbs past 100. The first hour is spent in a classroom setting, focusing on basic auto maintenance. Next, the class moves to the garage for a look under the hood. Students are taught

Great America to auction off array of unusual items

Anyone who has had a lifelong dream of owning an antique fire engine, an Arrow Indy touring car, a steam locomotive, or an antique beer wagon with a cooler and tap system, should be at Six Flags Great America on Saturday, April 9. Those are just a few of the unusual items scheduled to be sold at the all-day giant auction set to begin at 10 a.m. in the Six Flags parking lot.

As the amusement park prepares to open for its 13th season, the Great America staff is involved in extensive spring cleaning. As a result, the giant auction will be held to sell "excess equipment, supplies, antiques, and a number of miscellaneous items."

13 years worth of collectables have been uncovered to be auctioned off to anxious bidders and they include such unique items as an old fashioned popcorn wagon, totem poles, a taffy pulling machine, arcade games like Dragon's Lair and Missile Command and fog machine parts. Countless other miscellaneous items will be sold, along with musical instruments, electronic, office, and restaurant equipment, photo supplies and costumes.

The Great America Giant Auction will be held under a large tent and will go on regardless of the weather. Inspection is set to begin at 8 a.m. on the day of sale only. Bidding begins at 10 a.m., with cash, cashier's check, or traveler's check being the only accepted form of payment. No personal checks will be accepted and payment must be made the day of sale. Items must be removed by April 17.

Auctioneers will be Robert and Donald Merry with the Robert Merry Auction Company of St. Louis, Mo.

Six Flags Great America Family Entertainment Center is located at the intersection of Interstate 94 N. and Rte. 132 in Gurnee.

Women Attorneys seminar will focus on real estate law transactions

CLC to offer condensed real estate course

The College of Lake County will be offering a condensed Real Estate Transactions course (RLE 111-002) beginning in April and students who take the course could start a new career as a licensed real estate salesperson by summer.

Students can choose from two course sections, one in a four-week format and the other in a six-week format. Both condensed courses meet the 30 classroom hours of instruction required to take the State of Illinois Real Estate Salesperson Licensure Examination.

The first section (RLE 111-002) begins Tuesday, April 5, and will meet for six weeks on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the Grayslake campus.

The next section (RLE 111-007) begins Monday, April 18 and will meet for four weeks on Mondays and Wednesdays from 6 to 9:50 p.m. at the Grayslake campus.

Topics to be covered in the course include employment opportunities in real estate and related fields, basic elements of a binding contract, ways to hold title to real estate, reading and figuring legal descriptions, methods of financing a purchase, equal housing opportunities, and the procedures involved in a transaction from selling through closing.

For more information about the program, contact Dave Thompson.

emergency procedures as well as innovative tips, such as how to remove tightly bolted lug nuts with a flip of the wrist and how to make a temporary fan belt out of pantyhose!

Community involvement is another unique aspect of Duxler's business. Always wanting to put something back into the communities that have so well received them, Duxler transforms one of his showrooms into a blood center and organizes a yearly blood drive in cooperation with LifeSource, the Blood Center of Northern Illinois.

A Halloween pumpkin carving contest for children is another annual event. Pumpkins are complimentary and cash prizes are awarded with matching contributions given to the United Way. Duxler also sponsors community Little League, hockey and bowling teams. Larry is vice president of the Glenview Chamber of Commerce, and is also an active member of the Wheeling Chamber of Commerce, which is housed in Duxler's Wheeling location.

Having achieved growth in an industry that is generally regarded as "flat," the Duxlers have "franchised" some of their earlier locations in order to concentrate on continued expansion. With a facility in Crystal Lake just opened last August and construction almost completed for the newest location in Lake Zurich, this ever growing family business simply doesn't tire!

Purchasing diamonds, consult with an expert

Since the turn of the century, the solitaire diamond ring has been the American engagement symbol. Even today, as many traditions are toppling, the diamond ring tradition is stronger than ever.

This year, brides and grooms will spend over $1 billion on engagement and wedding rings. And, because the diamond engagement ring is usually the first piece of diamond jewelry a woman owns, it is important to solicit the assistance of an expert—your local jeweler—to counsel you about the qualities that should be considered when purchasing such a gift.

Diamond cuts as well as ring styles have changed throughout the years since Maximilian made his presentation to Princess Mary. Before the invention of the diamond saw in 1910, diamonds were polished to give them their shine. When the saw was used to break up the crystal, experts created optically efficient diamonds that held more brilliancy and dispersion than ever before possible.

Styling changes have been subtle and gradual. In colonial days the engagement ring was a diamond hoop called the "keeper ring," because it was worn over the wedding band, acting as its "keeper". The next style was the cluster ring, designed like an old-fashioned bouquet with a rose (of rose-cut diamonds) in the center.

The ancient Romans were the first civilization to use finer rings as a sign of betrothal and marriage.

Whether you select a round or one of the "fancy" cuts, such as marquise or pear shapes, you should have your jeweler explain the importance of the "Four C's" which determine the quality of the gem—carat, color, clarity and cut:

— Carat - refers to the weight, and therefore the size, of the gem. One carat is divided into 100 points, so that a diamond of 150 points weighs 1.5 carats.

— Color - Totally colorless diamonds are very rare and represent the highest color grade. The various gradations, from exceptional white to yellowish are barely perceptible to the untrained eye.

Occasionally, diamonds with strong colors such as green, red, blue and amber are recovered. These "fancy color" diamonds are rare, fetching commensurate prices.

— Clarity - refers to the degree to which a diamond is free of interior blemishes or inclusions. The size and position of inclusions affect the value of a stone according to whether they interfere with the passage of light through the diamond.

— Cut - The art of cutting a diamond is so refined that a precise mathematical formula was developed. It called for most stones to be cut with 58 facets, each placed at a precise angle to one another.

How much should you spend for this gift of love that lasts forever?

Consider the fact that most of your purchases depreciate in value and may not even last over the years.

A diamond, on the other hand, has lasting value.

Special gifts of jewelry commemorate the occasion

Whether it be a large formal wedding, or a simple wedding at home, jewelry plays an important role in wedding pageantry. Aside from the gold wedding rings the bride and groom exchange, members of the wedding party will be wearing jewelry as part of their apparel on this memorable day.

Of course, there's accepted protocol as to just what kind of jewelry wedding party members will wear, declares Kae McCulloch, fashion consultant to the Jewelry Industry Council.

It is traditional that the bride wear a simple strand of pearls given her by the groom on their wedding day. This gift she wears to the altar. If the bride does wear earrings, they should be simple, matching her pearls.

Gifts for the groom

It is becoming more and more prevalent for brides to give their grooms a fine watch, which he in turn will wear during the wedding. The groom usually wears gold or pearl cufflinks and studs at a formal wedding, or tie bar, tie tac and cufflinks with less formal wear.

The bride's and groom's fathers, as well as the best man and ushers, wear gold cufflinks or tailored stone cufflinks and studs with formal wear, or gold cufflinks and tie tacs or tie bars.

The maid of honor, the bridesmaids and the mothers of the bride and groom often opt for pearl necklaces and pearl earrings for the occasion. The flower girl often wears a gold locket with a matching gold barrette.

Good taste the rule

Be smart, check out insurance

This year more than two million couples will say "I do" and spend some $25 billion on furniture, clothes and other goods for their new life.

All those possessions need insurance coverage, and couples planning to wed should contact an insurance agent or company representative to make sure they get the coverage they need.

Many couples don't realize that a homeowners or tenants policy limits the dollar amount of coverage for many personal belongings, including jewelry and silver, in case of theft or some other insured peril. Jewelry and furs are usually insured to a limit of $500 or $1,000.

If your engagement ring, wedding band, watch and fur coat were stolen, for instance, you would receive $500 to $1,000 from your insurance company, but the total worth of your loss probably would be closer to $5,000.

Similarly, silverware is usually insured for $1,000 to $2,500, but with your wedding gifts you

The general rule for the wedding party members is that their jewelry be in good taste, and the women's jewelry should never be so arresting that it detracts from the bride's jewelry.

Watches worn at the wedding by both men and women should harmonize with their apparel and be classic in appearance, with gold bracelets or fine leather straps.

Jewelry is appropriately significant and properly sentimental for commemorating the special wedding day and, because of this, the bride and groom usually make it a gift of jewelry, often engraved, when they give presents to the members of their wedding party.

The maid of honor should receive a gift somewhat more importance than that of the bridesmaids. It could be a pearl necklace, bracelet or earrings, a birthstone ring, or tailored stone set necklace.

The bride might give her bridesmaids a bangle bracelet, a circle pin or pendant, gold or silver charms, or pearl button or stud earrings.

The flower girl's gift can be something she can wear immediately, or reserve for her future, more mature years, such as a birthstone ring, pearl pendant, bracelet or religious jewelry.

The groom's gift to his best man can be gold, silver or stone-set cufflinks and tie tac, gold or silver money clip or cigarette lighter.

The ushers' gifts, of lesser importance, should all be identical, such as belt buckles, gold or silver key rings, pen and pencil sets, pocket knives or I.D.'s.

may have a collection worth a lot more than that amount.

Consultant saves time and energy

Most brides, sooner or later, realize the massive scope of the special day they are planning.

A return to the formal, elegant wedding, coupled with a lack of time for the working bride, makes the use of a wedding consultant or planner more a necessity than a luxury.

A professional bridal consultant can help the bride organize, plan and direct all or part of her wedding...and keep it within the budget.

The bride plans only one wedding, while the consultant can call on experience and a wide range of suppliers to help make the wedding just what the bride dreams about, without the nightmares that come with planning it by herself.

Once only in the realm of the rich and famous, consultants now work with all sizes of weddings, but always with same goal. It is the consultant's job to organize,

Summer bridal fashions are soft and whimsical

The landscape for summer '88 bridal fashion is shaping up to be purely feminine and romantic with a "less is more" approach that will substitute the ornamentation of past seasons, according to Bride's magazine.

This new clean-lined, sculpted attitude will feature details like open necklines, pleating, wasp waists and ballgown skirts. Picture a well-tended garden, carefully thought-out...controlled...always neatly groomed.

Softer colors

The pastel story that emerged last spring continues for brides and wedding attendants—only, this season, the garden palette is in full bloom, with classic whites.

— Pale Floral Pastels - Delicate, barely-there pinks such as pink carnation, morning glory blue, buttercup, palest peach and silver mint green are cool-looking and soft.

— Budding Brights - Irresistibly delicious hues such as yellow freesia, magnolia peach, seafoam green, peony pink, lilac, and cornflower blue are vibrant, yet controlled.

— Sun-Kissed Brights - High intensity hues such as daffodil, marigold, tiger lily, poppy, pansy, plum, violet, shamrock, delphinium, and hydrangea make a very rich, strong statement.

— Striking Bi-Colors - High contrast color combos such as navy paired with white or beige provide a fresh, clean look.

Emphasis on textural interest

Texture is key, this spring. It's so important that the fabric itself becomes the story, its look and hand clearly influencing the resulting design.

Watch for last spring's move in textural direction to really blossom.

Among the standouts: Fabric with puckers or crinkles, flocked fabric, ottoman, damask, cloque, matelasse brocade, jacquard, dupione, shantung, gazar, and crunchy paper silk.

Also watch for high-contrast fabrics played together - especially textures against sheers. The ultimate contrast is a textured sheer, employing texture to add newness to a traditional bridal fabric like organza.

Of sheer importance this season are organza, organdy, voile, georgette, chiffon, ribbon sheer, shadow-striped and coin-dotted sheer, placed sheer, point d'esprit, embroidered and flocked tulle, sheer with re-embroidered lace and textured cotton batiste.

Additional trends to note:

— Laces with added texture - such as soutache or ribbon lace used as accents - on a bodice, a skirt panel, a train;

— Toned-down metallics - always with texture;

— Three-dimensional textures:

— Texture combined with stretch - the absolute newest combo around.

More refined silhouettes

Sprouting up this season are hand in hand with the new softened colors and lighter fabrics.

Among the key trends are:

— The Goddess - Inspired by mythology, this classic draped look

SPRING BRIDAL

Plan make-up ahead for best results on big day

Glenn Roberts, creative beauty director for Elizabeth Arden has traveled to all parts of the world giving make-up advice to thousands of women—including many brides-to-be.

He's learned firsthand what the problems are and has become something of an expert on bridal make-up. Here are some tips from Glenn on planning the perfect wedding make-up.

1. Don't wait until just before the wedding to experiment with make-up and hairstyles. Start far enough ahead so that you will be comfortable with both the look and the way to achieve it on the day of the wedding.

2. Try out hair and make-up with all the pieces of your wedding ensemble—veil or hat, dress, jewelry—and if possible do it in the actual light of the church or synagogue.

3. Since both dim church lighting and wearing all white tend to "wash out" the features, don't be afraid to wear plenty of color (lively pastels in light to medium shades) and apply it on all parts of the face equally, with no one feature dominating.

4. Have a professional facial a week before the wedding to deep clean skin and pores and give any possible eruptions a chance to heal.

5. If you wear glasses, be sure to choose eyeshadows bright enough to show through the lenses and maintain the balance of color on the rest of the face.

Also, softly line the eyes on both upper and lower lids with a pencil one shade deeper than the eyeshadow.

6. Treat yourself to a manicure and pedicure a day or two before the wedding so that hands that cut the cake look lovely and feet that stand throughout the reception feel smooth and comfortable.

7. To make lipstick last through the ceremony and beyond, apply Visible Difference Lip-Fix before applying lipstick. It will also prevent lipstick from "feathering"—bleeding out beyond the mouth.

Then line the lips neatly with a pencil and fill in with lip color using a brush.

8. On the day of the wedding allow two hours of quiet preparation before leaving for the ceremony.

couples simplicity with romance. Flowing lines and diaphanous fabrics reveal the figure in a tasteful way.

— The Deb or Ingenue - Feminine, with a naive but naughty sexiness, this '50's-inspired style features a wasp waist, exposed shoulders and a full skirt, complete with flirty crinolines.

Key shapes and details include:

— An appealing new softness, characterized by the cinched waist, the trapeze back, the fit and flare of the princess silhouette, elongated peplums and body-wrapping styles.

— A focus on décolletage, evidenced by off-the-shoulder looks, straplessness, sweetheart and face-framing portrait necklines, and flyaway collars.

— Gentle skirting, in the form of full skirts with sweep trains, swingy A-lines, tulips, uneven hemlines and updated sheaths with floaty, petal-shaped overskirts that reveal the body line underneath...perfect for the informal bride.

Style note: Cascades of soft tiers look fresher than ruffles for summer.

A sense of whimsy

Among the continuing trends are: — Bows, still cropping up at the shoulder on a bustle. They're even newer in profusion - almost woven into a neckline or hem.

— Silk flowers as adornment on dress, blooming in pale pastels against white.

Generous taxpayers check-off for charity

Illinois taxpayers who haven't completed their state income tax returns still have the opportunity to donate to check-offs on the tax form.

Last year check-offs raised $640,063 for three causes—Non-Game Wildlife, Child Abuse Prevention, and Alzheimer's Disease Research. This year there are two additional causes on the return as well, Aid to the Blind Fund and U.S. Olympic Committee Fund.

Illinois has had check-offs on its income tax return since the 1983 tax year when three causes attracted nearly one million dollars in contributions. Each cause must receive at least 100 thousand dollars in donations in order to remain on the tax return for the following year.

Individuals can donate up to ten dollars of their income tax refund per check-off. Joint filers can each make check-off contributions, which means this year there could be a possible ten check-offs per return or a possible total donation of $100.

In order to donate, taxpayers need only (1) check the boxes on lines 11a through 11e to indicate the cause or causes they would like their donations to go to and then (2) write in how much they wish to donate.

Last year there were 55,469 taxpayers who used check-offs. Thanks to these donors, Non-Game Wildlife received $200,200.18, Child Abuse Prevention received $266,836.61 and Alzheimer's Disease Research received $173,026.05.

The average donor gave to more than one cause, with an average donation per return of $11.54.

Statistics from the 1987 filing year (1986 tax returns) also show that married persons with children who own their homes are the most likely to donate.

Generous taxpayers check-off for charity

Illinois taxpayers who haven't completed their state income tax returns still have the opportunity to donate to check-offs on the tax form.

Last year check-offs raised $640,063 for three causes—Non-Game Wildlife, Child Abuse Prevention, and Alzheimer's Disease Research. This year there are two additional causes on the return as well, Aid to the Blind Fund and U.S. Olympic Committee Fund.

Illinois has had check-offs on its income tax return since the 1983 tax year when three causes attracted nearly one million dollars in contributions. Each cause must receive at least 100 thousand dollars in donations in order to remain on the tax return for the following year.

Individuals can donate up to ten dollars of their income tax refund per check-off. Joint filers can each make check-off contributions, which means this year there could be a possible ten check-offs per return or a possible total donation of $100.

In order to donate, taxpayers need only (1) check the boxes on lines 11a through 11e to indicate the cause or causes they would like their donations to go to and then (2) write in how much they wish to donate.

Last year there were 55,469 taxpayers who used check-offs. Thanks to these donors, Non-Game Wildlife received $200,200.18, Child Abuse Prevention received $266,836.61 and Alzheimer's Disease Research received $173,026.05.

The average donor gave to more than one cause, with an average donation per return of $11.54.

Statistics from the 1987 filing year (1986 tax returns) also show that married persons with children who own their homes are the most likely to donate.

Musical notes

Competition that started in January will conclude when three talented young musicians perform with the Waukegan Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Dr. Lynn Schornick at 7 p.m. on Sunday, April 10 at Waukegan's Genesee Theatre. The talented musicians are Rachel Barton, Chicago violinist, 11-year-old Camilla Chen, River Forest and Milton Laufer, 15-year-old from Wilmette.

There are two very special happenings that should be noted by all area jazz enthusiasts. The Guggenheims Big Band from Sweden, featuring Holke Erickson and Willie Cook on the trumpet at Jazz Showcase. This will be followed by the 12-piece Australian Jazz Orchestra on April 11.

The Chicago Pops Orchestra with 17 members from the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, will be part of CLC's Curtain Call Series, at 7:30 p.m., at Stevenson High School in Prairie View.

Mezzo soprano, Debra Austin; tenor, James Guthrie; the Liberty Fremont Chorale; the Prairie Symphony Orchestra, conducted by David Katz are all expected to be in the stunning final concert of the Liberty Fremont Concert Society's season along with the Prairie Symphony Orchestra, at 4 p.m., on Sunday, April 17, at the Chapel of St. Mary of the Lake University on Rte. 176 in Mundelein.

Be there!

Hurry, hurry, hurry to the Antique Show and Flea Market set to run from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m., at the Lake County Fairgrounds in Graylake on Sunday, April 10.

Noted lecturer Arthur Feldman will be giving illustrated lectures on "Faith and Form: Judaism and Jewish Art," on Friday, April 8, at 8:15 p.m.; on Sunday, April 10, at 10 a.m. and on Friday, April 15 at 8:15 p.m.

For those who dig watercolor scenery, Franklin McMahon's works of art will be on display at Chaffee Lakeside Bar in Vernon Hills through April 12.

To view local artistic talent galore, head for CLC's Community Gallery of Art for the seventh annual Student Juried Art Exhibit from April 22-May 20. A reception from 7 to 9 p.m. on April 22 will open the exhibit.

Anyone who enjoys champagne and seeing the works of prominent mid-western artists will have a chance to enjoy both, plus help provide needed services for people with epilepsy, at the reception for the prestigious Kemper Collection of Midwestern Art, from 2 to 5 p.m., on Sunday, April 24 at Kemper Group International Headquarters off Rte. 22 in Long Grove.

On stage

Medieval and Renaissance art will again come to life during the popular "Flowers as Art" exhibit at the Martin D'Arcy Gallery on Loyola University's northshore campus on Saturday, April 16, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

On Sunday, April 17, at 2 p.m., McHenry County Defenders will present a part of their 10th Annual Wildlife Film Series, "Amazonia," scheduled from 10 a.m. on Thursday, April 21, at the Woodstock Opera House.

The Children's Classical Theatre is expected to bring its version of Rudyard Kipling's "Just So Stories," to Libertyville High School at 2 p.m., on Sunday, April 17.

For those who "Won't Dance," but love to watch it, The Cleveland San Jose Ballet is still performing "Romeo and Juliet," and the "Nutcracker."

Talisman in final concert

Talisman, male vocal ensemble, will be featured in sixth and final concert of Lake County Community Concert Assn.'s current series at 8 p.m., on Saturday, April 9, at Waukegan West High School's auditorium. Group's repertoire spans six centuries of musical literature and includes both sacred and secular music. Each concert ends with close harmony arrangements of spirituals, folk songs, barbershop, folk songs, swing and jazz. Admission is by season ticket only. For information on purchasing 1988-89 season tickets call 312-623-3178

Fairgrounds to feature Adopt-A-Horse

Approximately 50 wild horses rounded up from western rangelands are being brought to the area by the Department of the Interior's Bureau of Land Management (BLM) as part of the Northwest Suburban Council, Boy Scouts of America Scout-O-Rama.

"We are very excited about this opportunity to join with the Boy Scouts and several local corporations to promote the Scout-O-Rama and Adopt-A-Horse Program," said BLM Milwaukee Dist. Mgr. Bert Rodgers. "The theme of the event is 'Live the Adventure', and I can't think of two better symbols of adventure than Boy Scouts and wild horses."

The event, scheduled for May 13 to 15 at Lake County Fairgrounds in Grayslake, will include hundreds of Scouting exhibits and several of the horses that were adopted during the 1987 Scout-O-Rama. Approximately 50 wild horses will be available for adoption during the three-day event.

Several horses that were adopted during the Scout-O-Rama last year will return to the event this year to demonstrate the beauty and skills of animals adopted through BLM's Adopt-A-Horse program.

Through BLM's Adopt-A-Horse program, excess wild horses removed from public lands in the west are offered to qualified individuals at fees of $125 per horse. Applicants who can provide suitable transportation, facilities, and care can adopt as many as four of these animals.

The wild horses to be adopted at the Scout-O-Rama event this year will be some of the animals halter trained by prison inmates in Canon City, Col. The prison program was designed to make animals more desirable by halter training them prior to adoption.

About 43,000 wild horses and burros roam public rangelands in the western states—too many for the forage and water available for them. Excess animals are humanely rounded up by BLM and made available to qualified applicants across the United States. More than 84,000 excess animals have been placed in foster homes since the program began in 1973.

Wild horses and burros available for adoption have been thoroughly checked by a veterinarian, and have received the tests and vaccinations necessary for shipment across state borders. After adoption, the animals remain

U.S. Government property until title is transferred to the adopter. Adopters who have provided proper care for one year may apply for title to their adopted animals.

Anyone interested in adopting a wild horse or burro is encouraged to apply in advance, although "walk up" applications will be accepted at the fairgrounds. Applications and information about the event may be obtained by contacting BLM's Milwaukee District Office, P. O. Box 631, Milwaukee, Wis. 53201-0631, telephone (414) 291-4400.

Curtain call to present Pop

The Chicago Pops Orchestra, composed of 17 members of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra under the direction of violinist Arnold Brostoff, will be the featured performers on Saturday, April 30 in the second half of the College of Lake County Curtain Call series.

The program will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the new Stevenson High School Auditorium in Prairie View.

Since its debut in 1975, the critically acclaimed Chicago Pops Orchestra has dazzled audiences across the country with its musical diversity and superior interpretations of works by Sousa, Gershwin, Beethoven and others.

Tickets are $12.50 per person; $10 for senior citizens and students. Rates for groups of 10 or more are quoted upon requests. For more information and tickets, call the Southlake Educational Center at (312) 433-7884.

Three Arts is searching for past club residents

In preparation for the upcoming 75th anniversary celebration, The Three Arts Club of Chicago is attempting to locate past residents. The club is a residence for women who are students of the performing arts. On the list of those being searched for are: Pollyanna Quasthoff, Wauconda, who was a resident in the 1980's; Joan Farrar, Barrington, who was a resident in the 1950's; and Joan Jensen of An-tioc, who was at Three Arts in the 1940's.

Anyone who knows where they (or any other past residents of The Three Arts Club) are located, or if they know of a relative or friend who can help us find them is asked to send the mailing address to: Margaret Mary O'Neill, President, Board of Directors, The Three Arts Club, 1300 N. Dearborn, Chicago, Ill. 60610, or call (312) 944-6250.

Fix baby's 'heartbreak' during mom's pregnancy

Not long ago, Gurnee residents Todd and Susan Little's yet-unborn child developed a heart condition so rare even Chicago's Children's Memorial Medical Center cardiologists had come across few like it: the upper chambers of his tiny heart were beating more than three times the normal rate, while the bottom chambers were beating irregularly.

"The baby had atrial tachycardia, an abnormally fast heart rate that is extremely rare in a fetus," said cardiologist Janette Strasburger, M.D.

Left untreated, fetal atrial tachycardia can lead to heart failure. However, the Little family was able to tap the expertise of a fetal assessment and intervention team that involves more than 20 specialists from Children's and Northwestern Memorial Hospital (NMH).

Consequently, the heart abnormality was treated in utero (in his mother's uterus), and Richard Little began life as a normal, healthy child.

The Littles' case was special. Five months into her pregnancy, Mrs. Little experienced chest pains so severe she was unable to breathe. Admitted as an emergency case to Northwestern's Prentice Women's Hospital and Maternity Center, she was found to have a blood clot in the lung. She was hospitalized for two weeks, treated with a blood thinner, and sent home.

In October, Mrs. Little was readmitted to Prentice after she began passing blood clots. Her unborn baby was monitored and found to have an extremely high heart rate, its triggering factor uncertain. An ultrasound test confirmed the existence of the atrial tachycardia.

After careful examination, the cardiologists recommended treating the condition with Quinidine, a drug that slows the heart rate.

Mrs. Little took the drug orally, and it was passed through the placenta directly to the baby. The tachycardia was under control after two doses.

The Littles returned home with a Doppler device — a hand-held, pen-shaped fetal heart monitor that magnifies the sound of the heartbeats. Earlier, the Littles had been taught how to use the monitor on their developing child and how to recognize episodes of tachycardia.

On Dec. 30, 1987, Richard was born full-term at Prentice during a completely normal delivery.

Lakeland Newspapers hosts pre-cruise party

Despite the rain and snow, an enthusiastic group of readers attended the Lakeland Pre-Cruise Party hosted by the Lakeland

Home Federal Savings and Loan Assoc., Grayslake.

A vivid description of life aboard the Admiral cruise ship Stardancer was given by Vince Alesia, an executive of Admiral Cruises who had just returned from a Stardancer cruise to the Mexican Riviera.

Alesia visited the ports of call, Puerto Vallarta, Cabo San Lucas and Mazatlan, which the ship will visit during the seven-day Lakeland sponsored cruise.

"She is a floating luxury resort with swimming pool large enough for lap swimming," Alesia told the group, several of whom had already signed up for the trip.

"There is a health club, outdoor running track, night club, disco, elegant dining room and five cozy bars. Every night there are singers, dancers, comics and a variety of other entertainers performing in The Showroom of the Starlight Club.

"The people you meet on the Stardancer often become lifelong friends," Alesia said.

In the question and answer period which followed, Alesia said passengers will either need a passport or a certified birth certificate. This led to the surprise discovery by Madeleine McDonald of Wildwood that her husband has never had a birth certificate.

"I was born in a part of Oklahoma that was the Cherokee nation," McDonald said. "I guess they weren't very fussy about recording births."

Alesia assured the McDonalds that he would find out how proper documents for McDonald can be obtained well before the ship departs on May 14.

Admiring brochure

Carolyn Dellutri of Fox Lake, Sandy Renguso and Cindy Erickson all admire brochure detailing upcoming Lakeland Newspapers cruise. Dennis O'Brien shows the future cruisers the brochure. Seven-night cruise will feature stops at Puerto Vallarta and Mazatlan.

Jamaica specializes in 'couples only' vacations

by DENNIS AND MARY O'BRIEN

Nowhere has the prepaid, "couples only" vacation caught on faster than in Jamaica, and typical of such resorts is Sandals, which accommodates 238 couples, young, middle-aged, and older.

What distinguishes them is that they have paid one price - from $1,985 to $2,640 for a week's vacation for two which will literally require them to spend no cash nor sign a credit card slip - not for water skiing or scuba instruction, not for a pina colada at the pool or a hamburger on the beach, or for anything else.

As a not-very-young, long-married couple, we wondered if Sandals' "for couples only" policy would mean a blend of sin and sand, a la nearby Negril with its nude bathing beaches.

Our fears were groundless. Whether newlywed, married, or never married, the attitude is conventional. Without singles, the freneticism of the chase is removed and the atmosphere is relaxed.

For the so-inclined, there are endless opportunities to join in land and water volleyball, surf board races, reggae dance contests, and aerobics classes in the fully equipped weight room.

We resolved to make ours a "health and fitness" vacation by working out every day, but like most couples, we succumbed to the overburdened dessert table, and the delicious offerings served in the airy, candlelit dining room or tree-shaded terrace.

Allowed baggage on airlines

BY JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Can I take my golf clubs with me on my flight to Phoenix? Is there an extra charge for grandma's wheelchair? If I already have one carry-on bag can I still keep my camera bag with me on the plane?

Let's start with the most asked question regarding baggage on airlines. How large a bag may I carry-on? The key here is that it must fit either under the seat in front of you or in the overhead bin. So how big is this "overhead bin"? If your bag is no bigger than 9 inches by 13 inches by 23 inches, you'll not have a problem. You may also carry-on a garment bag, though that limits you to one checked bag. In addition, you may take that camera bag on-board with you.

The rules for checked baggage can really get complicated, but I'll try and give you the condensed version.

If you carry-on a bag, you can still check two bags. The weight of any single bag may not exceed 70 pounds (that's more than anyone of us is going to lug around). The linear inches of the first bag may not exceed 62 and the second not more than 55. Linear inches is the length plus the width plus the height. If you do not carry-on a bag, you may also check a third bag whose linear inches does not exceed 45.

That's the basics. Now we'll get to the more unusual items.

A collapsible wheelchair may be checked in addition to the above at no extra charge. You may also check your ski equipment again at no charge. A golf bag may be checked, but it counts as one of your allowed bags. Also counting as a checked bag is a musical instrument under 39 inches, backpacks and sleeping bags. You may bring back a box or fruit from Hawaii or Florida in addition to your allowed baggage.

You hunters may check firearms, but there are restrictions. They must be in locked, hard-sided bags and unloaded. Some items which may be checked for a charge are bicycles ($30.00), scuba equipment ($25), and pets ($25). These prices, as well as everything else, vary by airlines.

ROCK TRACKS

By Rob Ferrus

Former Beatle, Paul McCartney, reveals: "I often idolize John [Lennon] so much that I tend to paint him rosier than myself, which actually isn't that good an idea. As it is, some guy in London wrote in a book, 'John was the genius, Paul was the songwriter.' I mean I think that's real crappy."

Speaking of Lennon in the April issue of McCall's, McCartney goes on to say that, "We had all those moments together," referring to, of course, the Beatles' extraordinary history and the many songs he and Lennon wrote as a team. "I do think John tried to take a big eraser and erase all those moments in his mind. 'Oh you know, the Beatles were bastards,' John would say. We weren't that bad. We did a lot of great work."

He continues, "Our last phone call was very good, very warm, very ordinary. I cherish that, because we'd had some steaming phone calls. The pity, obviously, is that we never got a chance to build on that and get back again."

Slave Raiders' entrance into the world via Minneapolis has been literally explosive, especially if you've had the opportunity to catch one of their shows.

"Power rock" is the term Chainsaw Caine, the lead singer, uses to describe the band's music. Slave Raider power rock is basically quite pure, lean, hard music that doesn't rely on topics such as devil worship, molesters, ego-boasting, redundancies, or any of the stuff which censors live for. ©1988, McNaught Synd.

CLC schedules exhibit

The Seventh Annual College of Lake County Student Juried Art Exhibition will open in the Community Gallery of Art on Friday, April 22 with a reception from 7 to 9 p.m. The exhibit will run through May 20.

The juried exhibit will feature art in a variety of media by CLC students from the 1987-88 school year.

The reception and exhibit are free and open to the public. Jazz pianist Bob Zaun and bassist Tom Sievers will perform during the opening reception.

The Community Gallery of Art, located at the Grayslake main campus, is a project of the CLC Foundation.

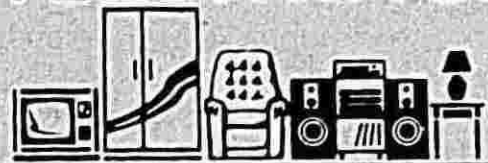

Gallery hours are 8 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday; 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Friday; 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday; and 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Quaid, Ryan bring life to new 'D.O.A.'

by BILL DOTSON

Dennis Quaid and Meg Ryan must enjoy improving on old movies. Last summer, they took a cue from Steve Martin and "got small" in "Innerspace", which was sort of a combination of "All of Me" and "Fantastic Voyage". Now, they are co-starring in the new thriller "D.O.A.", inspired by the 1949 film of the same name.

Quaid plays Dexter Cornell, a college professor who, for various reasons, has lost his passion for life. He discovers that he has somehow ingested a slow-acting but fatal poison and has anywhere from 24 to 48 hours left to live. In that time, he goes on a desperate search for the answers to who poisoned him, how, and why.

Films like "Breaking Away", "The Right Stuff", and "Dreamscape" have made Quaid one of my favorite actors and "D.O.A." adds another great performance to the list.

Ryan is also very appealing and likable as Sydney, a freshman who has a crush on Cornell and becomes, as he puts it, his "one bit of light in an ever-darkening dream." I love that line and you could say it sums up the mood of the movie.

This ironic theme—the idea of a man who was, in effect, already dead, but begins to come alive again after he no longer has any life—is very effective.

What I liked best about it is the "bond" that develops between Cornell and Sydney, a relationship that both know is impossible.

But "D.O.A." is not just a downbeat story of a doomed romance. It has its moments of dark humor, like when Cornell warns a villain, "Don't mess with me, I've had a really rough day!"—and then gets punched out.

It is an action-packed adventure and a well-detailed mystery. Several suspects and false leads are set up, but for once, I found it easy to figure out "whodunnit", how, and why.

Figuring out who the culprit was before Cornell did made the film no less enjoyable but I do have one tiny complaint. The ending is unsatisfactory.

That aside, "D.O.A." is a ride well worth taking, thanks to the talents of both Quaid and Ryan, as well as supporting actors Daniel Stern and Charlotte Rampling.

'D.O.A.': remake classic with a little spice added

by DAN BECKER

Remember when you were back in school and some joker put a dead frog on your chair? You tried to figure who placed the pithed little amphibian on the stool. Was it that twerpy kid from the front row who wanted to go out with you? No. Was it your brother, who just happened to be in the same science class? No. It must have been that big bully who sat in back of you. No, not him either. It may have been a long introduction, but that's the premise of the new Dennis Quaid movie, D.O.A., (Dead on Arrival).

Quaid plays literary professor Dexter Cornell who is poisoned and has 24 hours to find out who put that radium chloride in his drink.

That correlating question of "who put the frog on the chair" gnaws at your mind from the onset, and your absolute, sure-fire whodunnit solution will fall by the wayside several times.

Everybody in the movie is a suspect. Is it Cornell's ex-wife to be, is it the pretty little college co-ed, could it have been the widow who funded the son of her husband's killer? You slowly come to the conclusion that the person who you thought poisoned Cornell didn't do it. Especially when that person ends up dead on a pool table, or sinks into the Labrea tar pits.

This remake of the 1949 Edmund O'Brien version of D.O.A., is more upbeat (as upbeat as a movie about a dying man can be), and is spiced with a dash of humor.

Meg Ryan plays sassy little co-ed Sydney Fuller, who helps Cornell find the killer. She also skips around in a red satin slip a lot.

In between dodging bullets and making love, the two embark in search of the killer. Quaid and Ryan work well together, but it is difficult keeping the "student-teacher relationship" from entering the moviegoer's mind.

Though the film is not great, it does keep you taped to the seat (not as exciting as a movie that keeps you glued to the seat).

Back to the frog.

It was neither the bully, the twerp, nor the brother that put the frog on the stool. It was the teacher. This clue should give you a little help in figuring out whodunnit.

Urban Gateways to bring dance to Wauconda

Urban Gateways: The Center for Arts in Education presents "Dances of Spain" at Wauconda School, 225 Osage, and at Robert Crown Elementary School, on Friday, April 15.

Pascual Olivera and Angela Del Moral lead their audiences through a full Spanish dance experience. They begin with a classical Spanish dance of the early 1800's, salute the bullfights with a cape dance and "Oles", show a sampling of the many and varied folk dances of the Spanish peninsula.

The internationally known dancers illustrate the Moorish influence on Spanish dance and perform the exciting flamenco with its extraordinary footwork.

Pascual and Angela also demonstrate the castanets and how dancers use them to "converse" during a dance. The program is fascinating and colorful with authentic costumes from Spain.

Urban Gateways is the most comprehensive organization of its kind in the country and has been called the "Metropolitan Museum of Arts in Education" by the National Endowment for the Arts. The organization was recently recognized with a Governor's Award for the Arts by the Illinois Arts Council.

The performances at Wauconda School will begin at 9 a.m. and again at 10 a.m. and the Robert Crown Elementary School performance will begin at 1 p.m.

Shout Ole!

Pascual Olivera and Angela DelMoral, of Urban Gateways show student audiences intricacies of Spanish dance. Dancers are due at Robert Crown School, Wauconda on April 25.

Joffrey Ballet over leaves memories

by TOM WITOM

The Joffrey Ballet has ended its week-long Chicago engagement, but the memories it leaves behind only serve to solidify its reputation as the country's premiere dance company.

One of the Joffrey's most notable offerings this time was the local premiere of "Le Sacre du Printemps" (The Rite of Spring), which was reconstructed from its original debut in 1913 in Paris.

Subtitled "Pictures From Pagan Russia In Two Acts", this haunting dance featured 46 performers stomping to the music of Igor Stravinsky. Choreographed by Vaslav Nijinsky, "Sacre" comes across as an urgent, primitive ritual. The costumes -- women in headbands and Indian-style braids, and some men in wolf skins, complete with heads -- are striking.

Another local premiere, "Concerto Grosso", found the dancers twirling as human tops.

Two reprises, from the company's vast repertoire of 194 dances, "Light Rain" and "The Clowns", were simply stunning. And "Untitled", in which male dancers, buried under the tresses of the female performers, added a nice touch of humor.

The ballet season continues with the Cleveland San Jose Ballet April 6 - 16 at the Civic Center for the Performing Arts. This troupe will do "Romeo and Juliet", "The Nutcracker", and "Gaité Parisienne".

Then the high-flying Hubbard Street Dance Co. takes the stage April 28 to May 7.

Editor's note: Robert Joffrey, founder of the Joffrey Ballet, died last week.

Pianist Bates brings Rhapsody to symphony's concert

The Lake Forest Symphony, under the leadership of Music Director, Paul Anthony McRae, will be presenting an all-Gershwin pops concert on Saturday, April 16 at 8:30 p.m. at Ross Auditorium, (Great Lakes Naval Training Station).

Highlighting this concert will be a performance of "Rhapsody in Blue," with pianist Leon Bates joining the orchestra for this piece. Bates will also perform popular solo piano works of George Gershwin.

Also programmed will be "Cuba

Overture," "American in Paris," "Lullaby for String," and the overtures to "Strike up the Band," "Oh Kay, and Girl Crazy". Ticket prices are $9 and $12 and may be purchased in Lake Forest at the symphony office at Barat College (312)295-2135, Don's Finest Foods, Helanders, and all Ticketron outlets (312)853-3636. Mastercard and Visa are accepted.

Bates has performed with many of the major orchestras throughout the United States and is known for his interpretation of the music of George Gershwin. Of his recent performances with the New York Philharmonic featuring the music of Gershwin, the New York Newsday said "Bates' gentle but firm touch was soothing and seductive, and he played with a relaxed confidence that emphasized the nightclub origins of the music."

Bates is equally at home in the concert hall and in nightclub engagements. He has performed with such noted jazz artists as saxophonist Dexter Gordon (Oscar nominee for the recent movie, "Round Midnight") bassist Ron Carter, and pianist Tommy Flanagan. He has also collaborated with such diverse performers as trumpeter Wynton Marsalis, pianist Tamas Vasary, and the Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater.

For the convenience of audience members, shuttle bus service is available from the Lake Bluff Chicago and Northwestern station to Ross Auditorium. For reservations and further ticket and concert information about this and future concerts, telephone the symphony office.

WHAT CONDITION IS YOUR SPINE IN?

The condition of your spine has a direct relationship to your health. The spinal cord is the lifeline of the body. If you are having the sensations of numbness in the hands or feet, electric shock sensations, hot spots, cold spots, constant stinging or even burning, chances are your spine is not in the condition it should be in. These are signs of severe chronic nerve irritation and should be cared for before more serious irreversible complications occur.

Pinched nerves can be the cause of:

1. Headaches
2. Neck Pain
3. Shoulder Pain or Knee Pain
4. Difficulty Breathing
5. Lower Back Pain, Hip Pain, and Pain Down the Legs.

Employment Guide

THIS WEEK'S

HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Self-indulgence is only good in moderation.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) Express your feelings in a relaxed manner for the best results. Many are watching you now with renewed interest, so watch your step. Avoid a Gemini.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Stick to the rules, and focus on any legal procedures surrounding you. Your position is stronger than usual, so use your bargaining power wisely.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Variety, stimulating dialogue and forward movement surround your actions now. Make inquiries regarding repairs, safety, and organization.

Cancer (June 21-July 20) Make those overdue adjustments on the homefront. A pleasant gift could be coming your way from afar. Family members play an important role now.

Leo (July 21-Aug. 22) Look behind the scenes to find the information you are starved for. Dig deep for juicy tidbits. Emphasize your personal security and financial standing.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) As that tax deadline nears, use your meticulous manner to get things in order. You'll emerge victorious, as well as gain valuable experience.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Shrug off that obligation not rightfully your own. Refuse to be intimidated by important people around you. Keep your temperament on an even keel.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Emphasize your creative side, and express your individuality this way. Stand up for your rights, and hold fast to your beliefs and convictions.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Stress your creative endeavors, and be willing to take something on in a dynamic manner; it could prove lucrative later. Your intuition is high now.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) An excellent opportunity is coming to strut your stuff; look for it. Listen to what others have to say, and you'll do well. Virgos play important role.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) An old face can present a new set of circumstances. The spotlight is on achievement and getting ahead. A Capricorn may try to hinder your efforts.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) Take inventory of your needs, and put them in a neat, concise order. Stress the importance of looking good. Be willing to forgive and forget with family.

If you were born this week, your financial rewards should be many throughout your life. While holding a prestigious position during the latter years, the early years should be full of learning experiences. A lover of luxury, you'll work hard for the good things in life. Taurus, Virgo and Aquarius persons will all play important roles, both good and bad.

MY TEDDY Bear is gone! Friday afternoon at the bowling alley in Round Lake, two boys age 10-12 were seen taking a light brown soft teddy bear. Parents, if they brought one home, find it in your heart to make them return it. There is a very broken-hearted 3 year old. I can't understand what they would want with a used bear. What else will they take? I would be a concerned parent.

Obituary

John Moore

North Chicago Tribune publisher Moore dies at 84

Shields Twp. officials are mourning the loss of a former Lake County resident who served the township as clerk for almost 30 years.

John Moore, age 84, of San Bernadino, CA, died in San Bernadino on April 4.

Moore was also a former publisher of the North Chicago Tribune. Moore purchased the newspaper on Dec. 7, 1930. He sold the paper to Don and Sally Herson on Aug. 24, 1973. Moore had earlier worked for the Kewanee Courier, DeKalb Chronicle and Antioch News.

Moore served as Shields Twp. Clerk from 1953-1980. He received an award from the Illinois State Editorial Assn. for Outstanding Services as Publisher. He has written in the book of records of both the Illinois State Legislature and U.S. Congress.

He was born in Galva, Ill. on April 13, 1903. Moore married Alice Twing in 1923 at the Methodist Church in Galesburg.

Moore, a veteran, has accumulated many military honors. The awards and affiliations include: Military Order of the Purple Heart; Red Cross, American Legion, Salvation Army, Community Chest, Member of the Rotary International, President of the North Chicago Chamber of Commerce. He was also active in the civil defense during World War II and was Chairman of the Lake County Rations Board. He was cited for outstanding services during the war. He was also a member of the Lake County Housing Authority.

Survivors are his wife, Alice; daughters, Meredith Willis of San Bernadino and Carolyn Fox of Walcott, Iowa; Robert Moore of Memphis and one sister, Maragret Bentham of Sierra Vista, Arizona.

A wake was held Friday at Schuster Funeral Chapel in Galva. Memorials should be directed towards United Methodist Church in Kewanee.

LEGAL NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS Time and Place of Opening of Bids

Sealed proposals for the improvement described below will be received at the office of President & Board of Trustees, Box 3110 RFD L.G. County, Illinois, until 10:00 o'clock A.M., April 18, 1988. Proposals will be opened and read publicly at that time.

Description of Work

Name: Various Streets; Length: 5000 feet (0.95 miles); Location: Various Streets as listed on the BLR 7303.

Proposed Improvement: Consisting bituminous concrete surface course class I, mixture D together with appurtenant construction.

Bidders Instructions

1. Plans and proposal forms will be available in the office of Black Engineering Co., Inc., 1375 N. Western Ave., Lake Forest, Illinois 60045.

2. All proposals must be accompanied by a proposal guaranty as provided in Article 102.09 of the "Standard Specifications for Road and Bridge Construction," prepared by the Department of Transportation.

3. The awarding authority reserves the right to waive technicalities and to reject any or all proposals as provided in Article 102.08 of the "Standard Specifications for Road and Bridge Construction," prepared by the Department of Transportation.

John E. Moore

age 84, of San Bernadino, California and formerly of Lake Bluff, Illinois passed away April 4, 1988 in San Bernadino.

He was born in Galva, Illinois on April 13, 1903. John was the "Printers Devil" at age 14. He married Alice Twing in 1923 at the Methodist Church in Galesburg, Illinois. He worked for the Kewanee Courier, DeKalb Chronicle and the Antioch News. On December 7, 1930 he purchased the North Chicago Tribune. August 24, 1973 he sold the North Chicago Tribune to Don and Sally Herson (Vague Printers). John served as Town Clerk from 1953-1980 for Shields Township of Lake County, received an award from the Illinois State Editorial Association for Outstanding Services as Publisher and is written in the book of records of both the Illinois State Legislature and U.S. Congress.

The following are some of John's honors: Military Order of the Purple Heart, Red Cross, American Legion, Salvation Army, Community Chest, Member of the Rotary International, President of North Chicago Chamber of Commerce, Active in Civil Defense during World War II, Chairman of the Lake County Ration Boards in World War II, cited for outstanding services in World War II, and a Member of the Lake County Housing Authority.

John is survived by his wife, Alice; 2 daughters, Meredith Willis of San Bernadino and Carolyn Fox of Walcott, Iowa; 1 son Robert Moore of Memphis, Tennessee; 1 sister, Margaret Bentham of Sierra Vista, Arizona; 12 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

A wake will be held at the Schuster Funeral Chapel, 313 Market Street, Galva, Illinois on Friday, April 8, 1988 at 10:00 a.m. with services at 11:00 a.m. at the First United Methodist Church, 108 E. Central Blvd., Kewanee, Illinois. Interment will be in Galva Cemetery. Memorials to the United Methodist Church in Kewanee in John's memory would be appreciated.

Frank James Harnish

age 66 of Grayslake, Illinois died April 1, 1988 at Condell Hospital in Libertyville, Illinois. He had been a College of Lake County faculty member for eighteen years until his retirement in 1987.

He was born in Lake Preston, South Dakota, served 4 years in the Infantry during World War II, and was discharged as a Second Lieutenant QMC (Reserve).

Mr. Harnish's career in education spanned forty years. Before becoming one of the original faculty members at the College of Lake County in 1969, he served professorships at Western Illinois, Northern Illinois and Eastern New Mexico Universities. While at Northern Illinois University he was appointed to the Governor's Commission of Higher Education which developed the Illinois Junior College system.

As a member of the Communication Arts Department at the College of Lake County, Mr. Harnish founded the college's theatre program and taught Speech and Theatre. He was active in the College Senate, serving several terms as president, and was a co-founder of the College of Lake County Federation of Teachers. Mr. Harnish served as a consultant for numerous Lake County community theatre organizations and area high schools. He also was the recipient of a variety of professional awards including the National Freedom Foundation Award, and most recently, Outstanding Illinois Citizen Award.

Mr. Harnish is survived by his wife, Dorothy Smith Harnish and daughter, Denise Harnish Dovrak. His son James and daughter Margot preceded him in death.

A Private service will be held for the immediate family. Arrangements were made by the STRANG FUNERAL CHAPEL, 410 E. Belvidere Rd., Grayslake, Illinois.

Drug-nutrient mixing to be studied Apr. 14

Understanding how nutrients interact with drugs in the body will be covered in depth at public meetings at 9:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. Thursday, April 14, at the Lake County Cooperative Extension office, Rte. 45, a quarter mile north of Rte. 120.

Speaking at the morning program only will be Sgt. Ralph Connard of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. who will exhibit illegal drugs and explain their effects on the body.

Sgt. Ralph Connard

Advance registration, which is required, can be made by calling (312)223-8161.

Approximately 1.5 billion prescriptions are filled each year, but over half the people who use prescription drugs do not follow instructions for taking them. Thirty-five percent leave the doctor's office with no information about the drug that has been prescribed.

The morning presentation will feature speaker Louis Abboud, a registered pharmacist from Harbor Pharmacy in Winthrop Harbor. The evening presentation will feature Steve Marx, a pharmacist from Condell Hospital.

Food-drug interactions affect people of all age groups. However, the groups most likely to have problems are: individuals with inadequate diet over a long period of time; individuals with chronic health problems; individuals who have been taking particular drugs for a long time; individuals with poor health habits, such as alcohol abuse; growing children; pregnant women; and the elderly.

Treat outdoor furniture to a longer lifetime

A picnic table or outdoor furniture doesn't have to be built of redwood to give a patio area a touch of class.

This spring, plan on giving those pieces made of less expensive wood a coat or two of a clear protective finish which will not only bring out the warmth and beauty of natural or stained wood but also repel abuse by the elements.

Here are a few tips on how to make this exterior furniture look great and last for years.

First, when purchasing a piece of unfinished wood furniture, let it weather in order to open the grain and remove chemicals that can cause unwanted darkening.

Once the wood has weathered to the desired tone, however, it is important to protect it from rain, dirt and whatever else the four seasons might throw at it.

Apply a quality coating like Fabulon marine spar varnish, which provides a film that doesn't crack when wood contracts or expands under different weather conditions.

This prolongs the life of the finish, and helps guard the wood against color fading and deterioration.

Chairs, tables and trim, as well as natural or stained garage or outside doors, also take a beating from the penetrating ultraviolet rays of the sun. During spring and summer, especially, this UV exposure can work quickly to fade the original luster and color of the wood.

You can save yourself regular fix-up aggravation by applying a specially formulated UV-absorbing finish such as Fabulon Sun Bounce, which is warranted to last for five years under the brightest and harshest of conditions.

The attention and protection you give your outdoor furniture and other exterior woods will keep your patio area aesthetically pleasing and functional for years to come.

And it will be a lot more satisfying than spending time and money every few years replacing or renovating furniture you grew fond of but neglected to care for.

Spruce up & save, inside and out-plan new windows

The right windows in the right places give a home natural light, fresh air, good looks and convenience. With spring in the air and the sun brightly shining, homeowners may start to think 'windows'.

To reap all of the benefits of window replacement, careful planning is essential. The material from which a window is made can be just as important as its appearance and style.

Vinyl windows, for example, are nearly maintenance free. They do not require painting, will not rust, rot, corrode or warp and can usually be cleaned with a damp cloth and a mild detergent.

Smart homeowners also know that replacing a window is an opportunity to improve energy efficiency, frame a view, increase the amount of incoming light and enhance a home's overall appearance.

The new windows should be attractive, durable, weathertight, easy to care for and effective insulators. Since they come in a variety of sizes and styles, it's not hard to find something for all types of decorating ideas and needs. Some of the most popular styles include:

— Bow and bay: Both windows project outward, providing wide views. A bow is curved. A bay is straight in the middle and angled at each side.

— Double hung: This traditional style consists of two separate sash, each of which can be slid up and down for ventilation.

— Casement: Operated by a crank, hinged casements swing out to 90 degrees to offer top-to-bottom ventilation. Easy to operate, casements are ideal for hard to reach places, such as above kitchen sinks and countertops.

— Awning: It's hinged to open up and out. Used singly, in series, or stacked, awning windows help control ventilation.

— Sliding: A sliding window or patio door moves horizontally across tracks at the top and bottom of the frame. The uncluttered style makes sliding windows or patio doors especially suited to contemporary architecture.

Cultural practice is key to 'ideal lawn'

The reason that some lawns are oases of greenery, lush and healthy while others look like the Badlands has a lot to do with the understanding of "lawn care". A little watering and some fertilizing once in a while just isn't enough. This idea of lawn care falls short by not tending to what turf experts call "cultural practices".

The first step in spring is to consult with a local lawn and garden center. They can be helpful in understanding the true problems that are common in the area. Local conditions, soil types, and disease-producing organisms are widely variable and every lawn may require different planning and treatment.

Before the first spring mowing, check the lawn for debris (leaves, twigs, branches) and rake up excess dormant vegetation. Then set mower blade a notch lower than usual to remove more of the dead and dormant material. This permits light and heat to enter the earth, warming the ground and accelerating grass growth.

It won't be necessary to fertilize until late May or early June, if the lawn was fertilized last fall. In any case, don't fertilize the lawn until green growth has begun. The winter breakdown of organic materials will suffice for the short term, and fertilization that occurs too early may produce "soft" grass. Check closely for "winter weeds" that have occurred and either dig them out or have them treated. Certain weeds indicate poor drainage or compacted soil (check with lawn center) and this problem can be remedied with aerification. Lawn care companies offer this service or aerifiers are also available from some rental companies.

After the first or second mowing, raise the blade height to the preferred height-of-cut for the region (up to two to two and one-half inches for northern grasses, and somewhat lower for southern grasses). Schedule grass mowing in accordance with grass growth, rather than once a week or any other specific time. Mowing too often or taking off more than one-third of the leaf surface at any one time reduces the grass' ability to "photosynthesize" (manufacture the food necessary for its growth process).

The frequency of watering depends greatly on the soil characteristics of the property. Sandy soil obviously holds less water than loam or clay soil and will therefore require more frequent watering. Probing the root zone of your lawn, to make sure it's moist, is an excellent guide to proper watering. The weather, of course, will dictate to some degree how much and how often the lawn will need watering.

Planning now for next year will give the lawn an even better appearance next summer. An application of fertilizer late this fall will minimize the need for an early spring fertilization. Fall is also the time when the density of the grass should be checked. If the grass is thin, seed will be needed. Again, check with the local lawn center to purchase the seed best adaptable to the area.

The critical factor is to put some thought into the individual lawn. Consult and plan with local experts using appropriate products and techniques for the area. Cultural practices are the best tool for modifying and altering the response of grass to the local environmental conditions, and for creating the ideal lawn.

Creating the ideal lawn.

- 1) Late winter/early spring—check lawn for debris, dog bones, twigs, leaves, toys, etc.; police before you mow, get rid of winter's accumulation.
- 2) To permit light and heat to speed grass growth, remove excess dormant vegetation with mower; set a notch lower than normal cutting height.
- 3) Take care of low spots, where snow mold and water appear; use a light leaf rake on area, dress with topsoil to level.
- 4) Get rid of winter weeds, some of which indicate need for aerification of soil and poor drainage.
- 5) Fertilize in late spring, after winter nitrates are exhausted.
- 6) Have a lawn service aerify lawn if indications of compacted soil are present.
- 7) After 1st or 2nd mowing, set mower to preferred height of cut for your region; mow often enough so that 1/3 of leaf surface is removed at each cutting.
- 8) Grooming techniques enhance lawn's aesthetic appeal; use a grass catcher or run mower through dried excess clippings to disperse.
- 9) Use a weed trimmer around trees and along sidewalks.
- 10) Water grass as needed; consider an automatic irrigation system; as it conserves and applies water more precisely.
- 11) Consult local turf authorities or garden supply center for information on appropriate chemicals to combat weeds, insects, and disease.
- 12) Think about your area, its weather, type of soil and grasses—then apply cultural practices necessary to manipulate them and create your ideal lawn.

SPRING HOME IMPROVEMENT

Use Springtime to upgrade heating system

When the flowers begin to push their way upward through the soil and buds burst into brilliance this spring, homeowners will release a long sigh of relief. It will be a sign of the end of winter, and with it a halt to the large fuel bills they have been experiencing.

At the same time, advises the Better Heating-Cooling Council, it will give them an opportunity to get their heating systems in top working order for next year. If there is one thing learned over the winter it's that fuel saved is money saved, and an efficient heating system is even more economical than a lowered thermostat. Coupling the two-efficiency with lower settings-means maximized savings.

The most important step to take, says the Council, is to have the chimney cleaned and the burner adjusted. It doesn't matter if you use gas or oil, or if you have hydronic (warm water) heating or forced warm air. Whatever steps are taken after that fall into the area of maintenance.

If there is a forced warm air system, the fan belt will have to be adjusted, the humidifier filled and the filters changed. It also might be a good time to insulate the warm air ducts to cut down on the heat loss.

Consider greenhouse for home improvement

If home improvement plans include adding a room to take advantage of a great view, bring more light into the home or increase the value of a house, consider a greenhouse or a "sunspace" addition.

Over 150,000 Americans add on these light, airy rooms each year, rapidly making sunspaces the most popular way to add space, character and value to a home. With a sunspace available to fit almost any design or budget requirement, it is sometimes difficult to make the right choice.

Greenhouses for Living, the only buyer's guide to residential sunspaces, can help. It contains step-by-step details, illustrations and color photos to help plan and create a sunspace addition that fits any need or personality.

The 130-page, full color guide contains information and ideas on kits vs. custom, selecting a builder, foundation design.

Roofs must defend against winter's ice and snow

It's a tough job keeping water out of a building and the roof is the structural part of the building which must do the job.

Many factors can limit a roof's ability to perform its watertight function. Even a roof which has been applied with the finest of materials and by the highest standard of workmanship can fall victim to the many influences that degrade its performance. One of the most powerful of these influences is climate.

Winter weather in northern Illinois creates very demanding requirements for roof construction which differ greatly from those requirements for roof construction in the southern states. If it's not the ultraviolet rays of the sun attacking the roof, it's the snow and ice on freezing days. The freezing and thawing of water and ice on the surface of the roof can create havoc with roofing materials causing expansion and contraction. Extreme ranges of temperature over short periods of time (At noon on a sunny day in winter, the temperature can be 45 degrees; 12 hours later at midnight, it can be -20 degrees.) give roofing materials little time to recover. Another peculiarity of the northern winter is that the part of the roof exposed to the sun may be warmed to above freezing so that the ice melts and the materials in that part of the roof are expanding; the part of the roof in the shade remains frozen and the materials contracted, producing stresses not only on the roofing material but on all of the materials in the structure.

In the Chicago area, stress from high winds presents another danger to roofs already suffering below freezing tem-

If the roof floated in air with no attachments to the rest of the structure and if the roof were a continuous waterproofing membrane, the extremes of climate probably would not be a menace to the roofing system. Then, of course, the roof would not be needed. It is the combination of the climate factor and the interaction of the roof with the rest of the structural and functional components of a building which endanger the integrity of the roofing system.

At every point where the roofing system joins another component of the building such as walls, gravel stops, parapets, or where the roofing system is interrupted by things such as air conditioning units, roof drains or vents, there is a significantly increased potential for rupture of the roofing system and eventual leaks. These junctures and interruptions are treated very carefully in the installation of a roofing system; they are "flushed" in an effort to seal these points and provide additional protection for the system as a whole.

SPRING HOME IMPROVEMENT

Determine which window style best suits home

Windows are a key element in a home's overall design, especially when it's time to remodel.

Before window shopping, determine what style windows best complement the home's architecture. The traditional design and popularity of double-hung windows, for example, make them well-suited for a Colonial or Cape Cod home. Each of the two sashes in double-hung windows slides up or down. Double-hung windows can be grouped together or installed separately.

Bow and bay windows are especially popular with Colonial or Georgian architecture. Bow windows gracefully curve outward while bays are straight in the middle and angled at each end. Their geometric patterns lend visual excitement to the interior as well. If they extend to the floor, they add some useful floor space.

Casement windows go with architectural styles ranging from contemporary to Tudor. They can be used in pairs or individually. Hinged at one side, casement windows swing out for full top-to-bottom ventilation. They are frequently used over sinks or countertops in kitchens.

Awning windows are popular in ranch style homes. Since they open out, they are often installed below a picture or fixed window for ventilation.

Sliding windows are often chosen for the combination of view and ventilation they provide. They come in a range of sizes and are easily combined.

No matter what the style, shop for vinyl-framed windows. They are available with single, double or triple-pane insulating glass. Additional options include tempered, frosted and low-emissivity glass, as well as Colonial or diamond grids.

Vinyl windows are also designed to resist rust, warping, blistering and peeling. An occasional wipe with a damp cloth is about all they need to maintain their good looks for years.

Look for the certification label of the Society of the Plastics Industry (SPI) when shopping for windows. It shows that the windows have been tested by an independent laboratory and found to comply with all the provisions of the American Society for Testing and Materials.

Now's the time to start geranium bed from seed

If you've longed for a border of geraniums but always passed it up because of the expense, try growing your own plants from seed.

Seed-propagated geraniums are now as reliable and will grow as uniformly as the varieties grown from cuttings in years past. Seed geraniums are as easy to grow as tomato plants indoors, but you need to start now, because it takes about three months to produce plants large enough to set out.

Seeds are available now at most garden centers. Or, place an order from seed catalog companies. There are many fine varieties in a range of colors.

Sow the seeds in flats or containers of moistened, artificial soil mix. These mixes can be bought at garden centers, are sterile and weed-free. Firm the seed and cover shallowly, then moisten. Cover the container with plastic wrap to prevent drying, and set in a warm 70-75 degree place.

One of the best ways to germinate seeds is beneath a two-tube, 40 watt fluorescent fixture supported two to three inches above the top of the seedling container.

This provides light as well as keeping the proper temperature. Keep the lights on continuously until seeds sprout. Inspect the seeds twice a day, and as soon as sprouting occurs, remove the plastic cover and reduce the lighting to 18 hours out of every 24. A small electric timer is a big help.

When plants have developed leaves the size of a dime, transplant them into small pots or similar containers. You can use the same artificial soil mix used to start the seedlings. Since the artificial mixes are inert, you will need to apply a diluted fertilizer periodically.

You can fit between 50 and 60 plants under a four-foot fluorescent fixture. Even so, as the plants grow, space will be tight.

When temperatures moderate, move the plants outdoors to a cold frame, keep the pots in flats and move them indoors if frost is predicted.

The plants may be set in their permanent location about May 15 in this area. If you start now, your plants should be in bloom shortly after Memorial Day, and should provide continuous color all summer.

Top prospects

Kimberly Sheptak and Jodi Batsford fared well in a swimming meet while competing for Lake County YMCA team.

Batsford, who lives in Wadsworth and Sheptak, who lives in Gurnee, attend Gurnee Grade School. Sheptak qualified for the state meet in the butterfly by posting a time of 31.87 at the district meet. State qualifying time was 35.05. Sheptak had the best qualifying time in the state. She also qualified for the state meet in the backstroke with a time of 35.59, the seventh fastest time recorded in the state.

Wrestling stars

Two North Chicago students competed in the Illinois Kids Wrestling Federation meet held at Northern Illinois University in DeKalb. Jamil Swift, age 12 and Darrick Novle, age 13, competed in the 82 and 77 pound weight classes. Both placed third. For Swift, it was the fifth time he has been a state qualifier. Novle also finished third last year. Swift attends Novak-King while Novle attends Katzenmaier Elementary School.

Good start

The College of Lake County's baseball season started on a bright note when the Lancers clubbed Trinity College 14-6 before starting on a trip to Texas. The Lancers pounded out 14 hits while holding Trinity to six hits.

Norm Niemo, a Wauconda High graduate, had two hits and three runs-batted-in. Shortstop John Dahn had three rbi's as well.

Second baseman John Becker had four hits in five at-bats, scored four runs and had four rbi's.

CLC settled the issue with an 11-run third inning. Trinity scored three in the fourth.

Scott Kantenwein was the winning pitcher.

Softball tourney set

Dug Out Park in Trevor, Wis. has set the dates for its season-opening tournaments. They are the men's 16 inch softball tournament and a co-ed volleyball tournament.

On April 15, 16 and 17, the Spring Fling Slow Pitch Tournament will be held. The entry fee is $80. On April 22, 23 and 24, the Early Bird 16 inch softball tourney is scheduled with an entry fee of $100. That same weekend, April 23 and 24, a spring-tune-up for co-ed volleyball teams is planned. The entry fee for the double elimination tournament is $40.

There will be trophies, t-shirts and traveling expenses for each tournament. For more information, call tournament director Tom Furlan at (414) 862-9936 or (312) 395-5788. Dug Out Park is located on Hwy. 83 two miles north of the Illinois-Wisconsin state line.

Free-throw contest

The College of Lake County's Physical Education Center will be filled with some of the best free-throw shooters of the county April 8.

CLC will be hosting the second annual free-throw shooting contest that day for high school students. There will be both boys and girls divisions and first and second-place finishers will be presented with trophies. All Lake County high schools will be represented by one boy and one girl free-throw shooter.

Action begins with a preliminary round at 7 p.m. in which players will get 25 warm-up free throws.

Stealing home

Carmel softball player Gina Schaeffer touches home plate after stealing base in fifth inning of game against rival Libertyville. Schaeffer touches the base just as Libertyville catcher fields throw. Carmel won second game against Wildcats 14-8. Victory improved Carmel's record to four wins in five games. Pitching ace Sue Jergens won for the second time. — Photo by Alon Jeffrey.

Mustangs may benefit from league's parity

When one thinks of parity, the National Football League, National Basketball Assn. and the National Hockey League all come to mind.

But the North Suburban Conference baseball race? That, baseball coaches say, is usually the domain of Stevenson and Libertyville. But maybe not in 1988.

"The league is probably more balanced this year than it has been in the past couple of years," Mundelein Coach Fred Pickett said.

The Mustangs, 7-11 in the NSC and 12-19 overall, look to be one of the "other eight" that may benefit from the newfound balance.

Five returning starters are in the MHS lineup for this spring, led by ace right-handed pitcher Dave Smith.

Other than Smith, the remaining seniors whom Pickett looks to see much production from include second baseman Dan Casper, third baseman-pitcher Graham Haas, outfielder Brian Hicks, shortstop Jeff Krebs, first baseman Tony Vecchie.

Pickett is hoping senior Rob Porcelius will be back at 100 percent level following a back injury last year. The senior can play any number of positions. Among those listed on his baseball resume are pitcher, catcher and outfielder.

Mark Mathews, who hit about .280 last year, will lead a talented group of juniors. Mathews, a designated hitter as a sophomore, will play first base.

"I think this year we will be a line-drive hitting team. We should be able to score more runs than a year ago," Pickett said.

The pitching staff after Smith may be an early-season question mark. The non-conference games were used to determine the best among Krebs, Haas, Dan Casper, Carl Sundell and Jeff Wheeler.

Other players vying for starting berths include outfielders Brian Hinks, Dan Mounce, Will Anness and Brian Miller, all outfielders.

"We're pretty inexperienced after Smith," Pickett said.

Overall, the veteran coach is looking for improvement in all phases of the game.

Mundelein, like all other spring sports teams, has found it difficult to get many pre-April games in. Mundelein lost 9-8 to Fremd in the season opener. Games against Richmond-Burton and crosstown rival Carmel were called off.

Mundelein's remaining regular-season schedule: April 9, Lake Zurich (doubleheader), there, 10:30 a.m.; April 14, Round Lake, home, 4:30 p.m.; April 16, Lake Forest (doubleheader), there, 10:30 a.m.; April 19, Antioch, there, 4:30 p.m.; April 21, Antioch, home, 4:30 p.m.; April 23, Warren, home, 10:30 a.m.; April 25, McHenry, home, 4:30 p.m.; April 29, Grant, home, 4:30 p.m.; May 3, Niles North, home, 4:30 p.m.; May 5, Niles North, there, 4:30 p.m.; May 7, North Chicago (doubleheader), there, 10:30 a.m.; May 10, Stevenson, there, 4:30 p.m.; May 12, Stevenson, home, 4:30 p.m.; May 14, Zion-Benton (doubleheader), home, 10:30 a.m.; May 17, Fenton, there, 4:30 p.m.; May 19, Fenton, home, 4:30 p.m.; May 20, Grayslake, there, 4:30 p.m.

Wauconda aims for .500 NWSC finish

How difficult is it to fool Mother Nature in March?

Just ask Wauconda Baseball Coach Jim Van Fleet. The Bulldogs were looking at the possibility of no tune-up games before the start of the Northwest Suburban Conference season after Mother Nature put a halt to the season opener six times.

"I've never had anything like this happen before," the bewildered coach said.

Once the season does get underway, the Bulldogs will be featuring a young squad but the underclassmen have some experience on the varsity level.

Wauconda lost three-year all NWSC performer Todd Marlowe to graduation but senior Dave Kyst returns for the Bulldogs.

"He has good feel for the fundamentals, both offensively and defensively," Van Fleet said of Kyst. Kyst hit .348 last year and is expected to be a major part of Wauconda's attack. Kyst defensively will anchor the outfield from his centerfield slot.

Another senior, Doug Stalker, will be hoping to complete a full season. Stalker injured a knee in the first game and was lost for the season. Off-season knee surgery was performed, and Wauconda coaches are hoping for full recovery.

Chris Wilson is expected to be the top pitcher for Wauconda this year. Wilson was 3-6 in his junior season. Larry Mask, another fourth-year player, is expected to play first base and outfield.

Seven players who were freshmen or sophomores last year will be playing a big role in Wauconda's 1988 baseball story.

"We're still a young team," Van Fleet said.

Sage, Potts contribute as Aurora wins baseball opener

Two area graduates contributing to the Aurora University baseball team's success this spring.

First baseman Jeff

Potts, a 6-0, 180-pound junior transfer from College of Lake County, led Aurora University's offensive punch against Carthage College with a double, home run and four runs-batted-in in a 10-4 season-opening win. Potts is a graduate of Wauconda High School.

Junior pitcher Maury Sage, a Grayslake High product, was credited with the victory. Sage, a second team NCAA Division III All-American last year, posted an 8-1 record and 2.10 earned run average in 1987.

The Spartans, who were 31-20 overall last year and ranked ninth in the nation among NCAA Division III teams, are ranked 14th this spring. In the first game, a six run sixth inning led the way.

Also at AU, the women's softball team was 2-4 during its southern swing through Indiana. The wins were an 11-0 and 3-1 wins in a doubleheader against St. Joseph's College in Rensselaer, ID.

Giving advice

Amateur linksmen set tourney schedule

This year's U.S. Amateur Public Links (APL) qualifier for the Chicago section, which includes the greater Chicagoland area and Northern Illinois, will be held at St. Andrews Golf and Country Club in West Chicago on June 7.

Qualifiers from this 36 hole event will participate in the Championship Proper at the Jackson Hole Golf and Tennis Club in Jackson Hole, Wyoming July 11-16. The APL is one of 13 national championships to be conducted this year by the United States Golf Assn. Last year's APL attracted more than 5,000 entries, 158 from the Chicago area. The APL is open to all male amateur public links golfers regardless of handicap.

Official entries are routinely sent to all 1987 entrants early in April. All other interested parties may obtain an entry blank by contacting: Julio Campagni, 312 Ashland Ave., Highwood or call (312) 432-6913.

All entries must be received by Campagni by 5 p.m. on Wednesday, June 1.

Select Cherry to direct golf program

Bonnie Brook Golf Course Pro-Manager Ed Staffan accomplished two firsts in one simple move.

Steffan hired John Cherry to be the Golf Professional at the Greenshore Golf Course located at 38729 Lewis Ave. It will be Cherry's first head golf pro and Greenshore's first season under the direction of a golf professional.

Cherry is looking forward to the challenge.

"I am looking forward to functioning as the head golf pro at Greenshore," Cherry said. Cherry completed a Class A apprenticeship under the tutelage of Golf Pro Randy Cochrane at Chicago Heights Country Club. Cochrane said Cherry is perfect for the position at Greenshore.

"Cherry maintains an excellent standard of professionalism. He is well-rounded in merchandising and teaching," Cochrane said.

Cherry said he specializes in teaching youth golf.

"I have an extensive background in teaching youth golf. This is a very good opportunity to develop a golf program that will provide activities and recreation for all ages," Cherry said.

Prior to his apprenticeship at Chicago Heights, Cherry helped guide the programs at Calumet Country Club and Midlothian County Club.

Greenshore, which opened March 31, has set its tentative operating hours for 8 a.m. to dusk on weekdays and weekends.

THERE'S NOTHING PRETTY ABOUT A CHILD WITH A PROBLEM

We all picture our children growing up happy and well-adjusted. Yet sometimes their lives take a painful turn. When your eight-year-old boy suffers from depression. Or a learning disability holds back your little girl.

For over 30 years, Forest PsychCare Hospital has paid special attention to children who need help. We know the symptoms of attention loss, hyperactivity, or stress. We treat kids from three to twelve who are withdrawn, disruptive, different, unreachable.

And we help. The child, the family, the home. Results as beautiful as the lives we touch. Call and talk to our professionals, today. 312-635-4100.

We Get Results

Many corporations join

Many corporations are recognizing the benefits of regular exercise and are encouraging employees to become physically fit. Such an investment may pay off in lower health insurance premiums, more energetic workers and complete loyalty. One of the most popular activities associated with corporate health and wellness programs is a running team.

The cost of this encouragement ranges from running paths on company grounds to corporate sponsored sports activities like the First Midwest Bank Team Competition of the Lake County Marathon set for April 24.

Teams can compete in the media, corporate, or open divisions and may choose the marathon relay or half-marathon. Marathon relay teams consist of five people, four running a leg of five milers and fifth running competing in a 10K. A half-marathon team is comprised of four people with the team score determined by age and sex handicaps. Awards are given to the top three teams in each division. Proceeds benefit the Lake County Special Olympics program. In the case of Allstate's "Trailblazers", uniforms and partially subsidized. Plans are also in process for a running path and baseball diamonds on its Northbrook campus.

Skyhawks hope soph success becomes victories for varsity

Any coach will tell you there is a world of difference between sophomore level and varsity.

But Johnsbury baseball Coach Wayne Hiller is hoping his group of juniors this spring will be able to make that adjustment without too painful of a learning process.

"I think we will be more competitive this year. We could be playing as much as six juniors at one time. The key will be how the juniors adjust to the varsity level," Hiller said during pre-season drills.

The Skyhawks' juniors were an impressive 14-6 overall, 8-6 in the Northwest Suburban Conference at the soph level and Hiller is hoping that success will translate into varsity wins.

Eric Mellum is the top returning senior off last year's 5-9 NWSC team. Mellum was selected all-NWSC last year and hit better than .500. Mellum will play centerfield and catch, according to Hiller.

Tony Weber also returns as a senior and will play outfield and pitch.

The hope for the future lies in the team's juniors.

Tom Ziebama will be a catcher and an outfielder; Bill Galbeck will be an outfielder and Eric Pulk will be a catcher and infielder.

One of Johnsbury's weaknesses could be pitching.

"We don't have somebody who can come in and strike a lot of guys out. We are very inexperienced there," Hiller said.

The Skyhawks lost their top pitcher of the last two years, Frank Husak, to graduation. Husak was a two-time all-NWSC player.

Among goals, Hiller said he would like to see his team finish in the upper half of the league. "We would also like to win a regional game," he said.

Hiller praised the team's attitude in pre-season drills.

Kenosha Twins start with two home games

The Kenosha Twins will be seeking to defend their Midwest League baseball championship when the team hosts South Bend in two games this weekend.

The Twins last year, under the direction of manager Don Leppert won the league title and had prospect of the year award in Derek Parks. The team is affiliated with the World Champion Minnesota Twins.

Kenosha will host South Bend April 8 at 6 p.m. at Simmons Field with a seating capacity of 3,000. The April 9 game is scheduled for 2 p.m.

Team members of the Midwest League and affiliations are: Appleton Foxes (Kansas City Royals); Beloit Brewers (Milwaukee Brewers); Burlington Braves (Atlanta Braves); Cedar Rapids Reds (Cincinnati Reds); Clinton Giants (San Francisco Giants); Madison Muskies (Oakland A's); Peoria Chiefs (Chicago Cubs); Quad City Royals (Kansas City Royals); Rockford Expos (Montreal Expos); South Bend White Sox (Chicago White Sox); Springfield Cardinals (St. Louis Cardinals); Waterloo Indians (Cleveland Indians); Wausau Timbers (Seattle Mariners).

Kenosha beat Springfield three games to one to win the league title in the playoffs.

After the games against South Bend, the Twins are on the road at Appleton for two games April 10 and 11. They then return home for four-game series against Waterloo April 12-15 with all games at 6 p.m. A series against Cedar Rapids opens with a 5 p.m. game on April 16 and then a 2 p.m. game on April 17 and 6 p.m. games on April 18 and 19.

Warren makes season opener something well worth the wait

Mother Nature was not kind to Warren's baseball team over its spring trip through southern Illinois, as the Blue Devils were prevented from playing even one game.

But once Mother Nature relinquished a little, the Blue Devils took full advantage. Warren pounded out 14 hits and scored 21 times in a 21-7 non-conference slugging of Round Lake in an away season opener.

"We were disappointed that we did not get to play a game, but that is one of the risks you take," Warren Coach Ron Shelton said.

Warren took out its full revenge on the Panthers, jumping out to a 9-0 lead after two innings.

Round Lake rallied to close the gap to 9-6 before Warren scored 12 runs in the fifth and sixth innings.

"I was pleased with our hitting but not with our pitching and defense after we got the 9-0 lead," Shelton said.

Warren winning pitcher Aaron White started the season off on the right foot by clubbing a home run in the first inning on a 0-1 pitch. On the mound, White allowed four hits and struck out and walked no one.

A bases-loaded triple by Derek Shelton provided Warren with three of its eight runs in the second inning. Shelton finished the opener with one hit in three at-bats and four runs-batted-in.

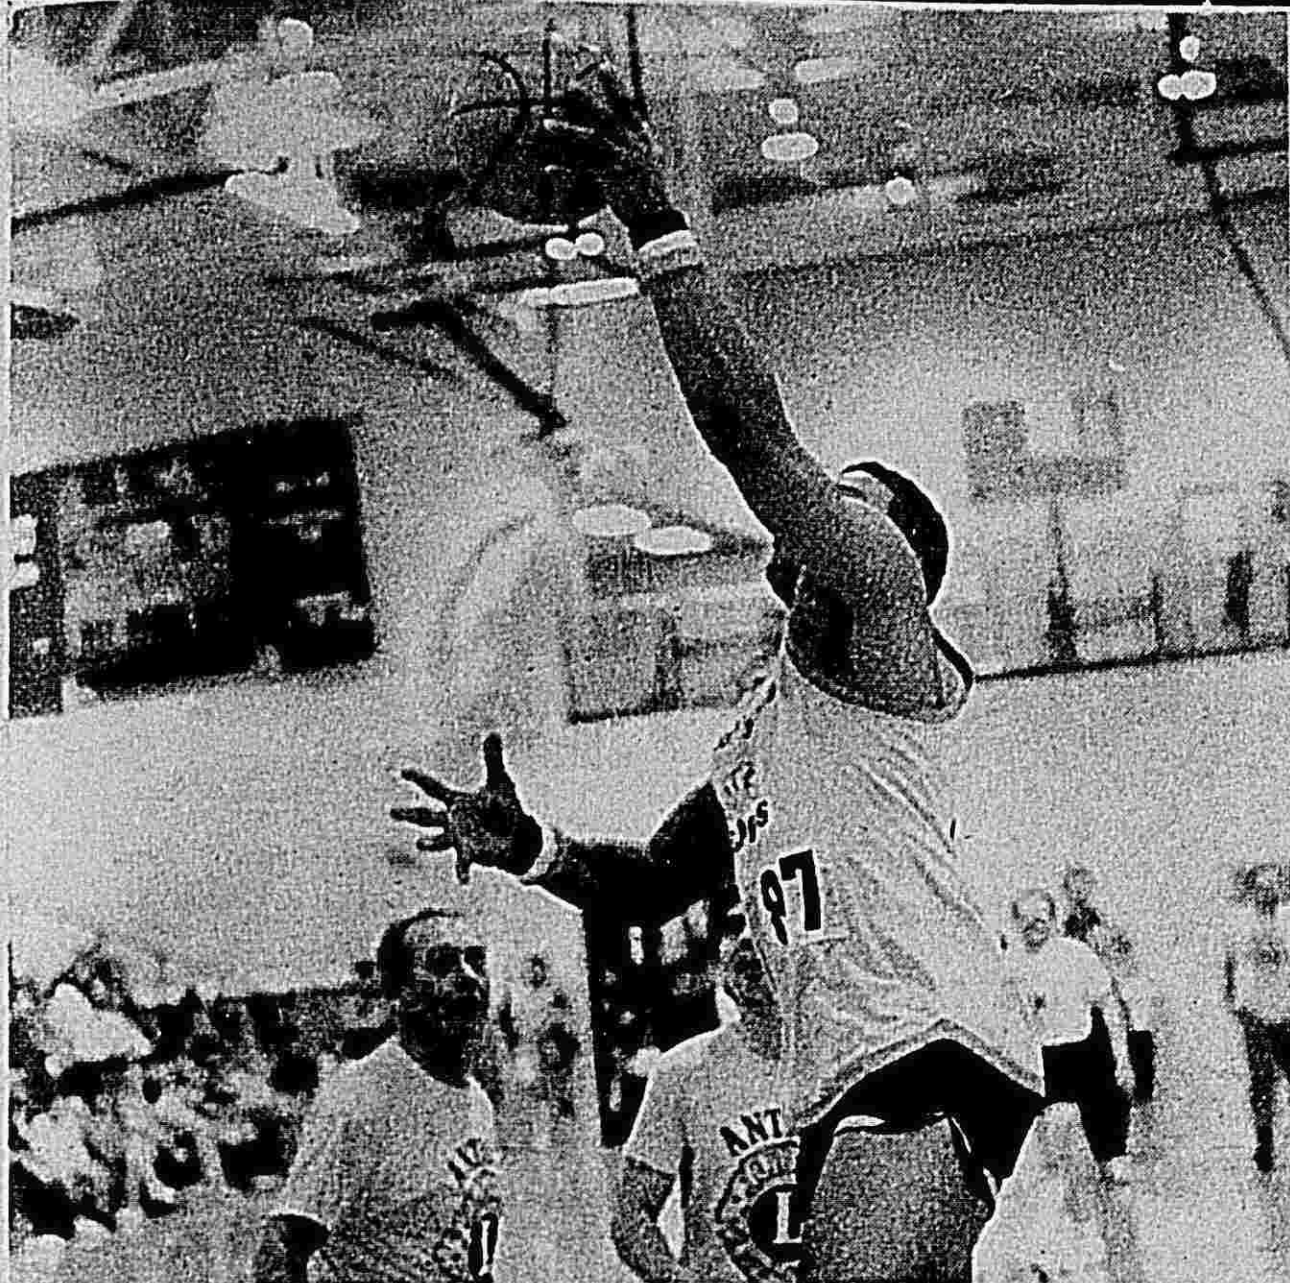

Others contributing to Warren's hitting prowess included Brent Howard, who was a perfect three-for-three. Howard had a double, triple and home run.

Junior Alan Crouch was three-for-four with two rbi's. Steve Swenson was two-for-four with two rbi's.

Beg your pardon

The photo which accompanied a story on Curtis Gentry, College of Lake County athletic director in last week's editions, was actually Angelo Kyle, the women's basketball coach. The sports editor regrets the error and any embarrassment caused.

'Freakish' injury sidelines baseball leader Langer

With deference to Bob Uecker, sometimes sitting in the front row is not always desirable. Just ask Carmel baseball player Bob Langer.

Langer was sitting in one of the first rows at Chicago Stadium Sunday watching as the New Jersey Devils were beating the Blackhawks. At one point, the checking became fierce and a player was slammed to the boards. The glass dislodged, hitting Langer in the ankle.

He will be out of the Carmel baseball lineup for a minimum of four and a maximum of six weeks.

"It was really a freakish thing," Carmel Coach Joe Pudlo said of the incident.

Pudlo said the injury will mean a lineup switch in the infield. Sean McInerney will move to shortstop and Eric Bruksch to second base.
